Thomas Nagel: Education achieves many things; it pulls people out of poverty, enables socio-economic mobility, and promises a route to dignity. But what does education mean to different people? What does it do, and whose needs are being met by education? Even as globalization and formal education have established themselves as unquestionable truths, only a privileged few have cornered its benefits. In this process, education is being reconceived, and its promises are being rewritten. Today, there is clearly more to education than going to school, getting credentials, and getting a job. This book is an attempt to capture what this more is by exploring education's connections to caste, class, and gender, and understanding how they affect the promise of education. In documenting the fractured realities of the many children who want guns for Christmas and the psychological trauma of conflict in Manipur, how a ban on toddy tapping affects educational choices in Tamil Nadu, or why a grandmother chose to get her fifteen-year-old granddaughter
