fundamental question of whether education is achieving its desired outcomes It will be of great interest to students and researchers working in the fields of comparative and international education education and international development African education African studies and development studies      The Tyranny of Metrics Jerry Z. Muller,2019-04-30 Today organizations of all kinds are ruled by the belief that the path to success is quantifying human performance publicizing the results and dividing up the rewards based on the numbers But in our zeal to instill the evaluation process with scientific rigor we've gone from measuring performance to fixating on measuring itself The result is a tyranny of metrics that threatens the quality of our lives and most important institutions In this timely and powerful book Jerry Muller uncovers the damage our obsession with metrics is causing and shows how we can begin to fix the problem Filled with examples from education medicine business and finance government the police and military and philanthropy and foreign aid this brief and accessible book explains why the seemingly irresistible pressure to quantify performance distorts and distracts whether by encouraging gaming the stats or teaching to the test That's because what can and does get measured is not always worth measuring may not be what we really want to know and may draw effort away from the things we care about Along the way we learn why paying for measured performance doesn't work why surgical scorecards may increase deaths and much more But metrics can be good when used as a complement to rather than a replacement for judgment based on personal experience and Muller also gives examples of when metrics have been beneficial Complete with a checklist of when and how to use metrics The Tyranny of Metrics is an essential corrective to a rarely questioned trend that increasingly affects us all      The Right to Research Kate Reed,Marcia C. Schenck,2023-01-15 Refugees and displaced people rarely figure as historical actors and almost never as historical narrators We often assume a person residing in a refugee camp lacking funding training social networks and other material resources that enable the research and writing of academic history cannot be a historian because a historian cannot be a person residing in a refugee camp The Right to Research disrupts this tautology by featuring nine works by refugee and host community researchers from across Africa Europe and the Middle East Identifying the intrinsic challenges of making space for diverse voices within a research framework and infrastructure that is inherently unequal this edited volume offers a critical reflection on what history means who narrates it and what happens when those long excluded from authorship bring their knowledge and perspectives to bear Chapters address topics such as education in Kakuma Refugee Camp the political power of hip hop in Rwanda women migrants to Yemen and the development of photojournalism in Kurdistan Exploring what it means to become a researcher The Right to Research understands historical scholarship as an ongoing conversation one in which we all have a right to participate      Scientific and Technical Aerospace Reports ,1973      Teaching Literature to Adolescents Richard Beach,Deborah Appleman,Bob Fecho,Rob Simon,2016-03-10 This popular textbook introduces prospective and practicing English teachers to current methods of teaching literature in middle and high school classrooms It underscores the value of providing students with a range of different critical approaches and tools for interpreting texts and the need to organize literature instruction around topics and issues of interest to them Throughout the textbook readers are encouraged to raise and explore inquiry based questions in response to authentic dilemmas and issues they face in the critical literature classroom New in this edition the text shows how these approaches to fostering responses to literature also work as rich tools to address the Common Core English Language Arts Standards Each chapter is organized around specific questions that English educators often hear in working with pre service teachers Suggested pedagogical methods are modelled by inviting readers to interact with the book through critical inquiry methods for responding to texts Readers are engaged in considering authentic dilemmas and issues facing literature teachers through inquiry based responses to authentic case narratives A Companion Website <http://teachingliterature.pbworks.com> provides resources and enrichment activities inviting teachers to consider important issues in the context of their current or future classrooms
