Against Abandonment Ju Hui Judy Chun, Jennifer Jihye Chun, 2025-06-24 Across the world protest has become a much debated tactic in struggles against inequality political corruption and ecological disaster In South Korea protest is a ubiquitous and essential form of political expression In 1987 mass protests forced reforms that led to democratizing government In 2017 the Candlelight movement removed the sitting president Beyond these spectacular national protests Korean workers and minority groups regularly turn to protest to express their grievances and assert their rights Based on long term ethnographic research with labor and social movement activists Against Abandonment is at once a chronicle of the life and death character of protesting precarity in South Korea and a searing examination of repertoires of solidarity for upending injustice Protest forms such as long term encampments life threatening hunger strikes and perilous high altitude occupations are agonizing to perform and to witness but often powerful as catalysts for change Chun and Han situate South Korean protest in transnational context to demonstrate how the struggles of South Korean workers are inextricably tied to the globalized conditions of neoliberal capitalism Building on the work of abolitionist feminist thinkers the book theorizes protest as a political form with far reaching resonance across history and geography and underscores the significance of collective survival self determination and emancipatory transformation

We Belong Here Shani Adia Evans, 2025-01-16 A landmark study that shows how Black residents experience and respond to the rapid transformation of historically Black places Although Portland Oregon is sometimes called America's whitest city Black residents who grew up in the neighborhoods of northeast Portland have made it their own The district of Albina also called Northeast was their haven and a hub of Black community life But between 1990 and 2010 Albina changed dramatically it became majority white In We Belong Here sociologist Shani Adia Evans offers an intimate look at gentrification from the inside documenting the reactions of the residents of Albina as the racial demographics of their neighborhood shift As white culture becomes centered in Northeast Black residents recount their experiences with what Evans refers to as white watching the questioning look on the faces of white people they encounter which conveys an exclusionary message What are you doing here This Evans shows is a prime example of what she calls white spacemaking the establishment of white space spaces in which whiteness is assumed to be the norm in formerly non white neighborhoods While gentrification typically describes socioeconomic changes that may have racial implications white spacemaking allows us to understand racism as a primary mechanism of neighborhood change We Belong Here illuminates why gentrification and white spacemaking should be examined as intersecting but not interchangeable processes of neighborhood change
