Sustainable Management of Agro-Food Waste Shalini Rai,Abhishek Kumar Bhardwaj,Luciane Colla,2024-11-17 Sustainable Management of Agro Food Waste Fundamental Aspects and Practical Applications provides insights into the latest approaches for optimizing waste produced by these industries Bioconversion of agro food waste is a significant concern for maintaining the ecosystem This book covers current research into the production of a variety of bioactive compounds

bioenergy resources and nanomaterials using potential microbes associated widely with the industry's waste. With primary focus on the microbial enzymes, secondary metabolites, single cell protein, bioethanol, biohydrogen, bio-fortified compost, bioelectricity and nanomaterials, the book presents a range of biotechnological approaches. Sections describe the application of microbial niches in waste recycling and renewable energies like biofuel, plant enzymes and hormones for different agriculture and allied sectors. With recent advancements in the synthesis of bioactive compounds, bioenergy and nanomaterials and the discovery of their agriculture, environmental and biomedical applications, it is expected that these methods will be applied at a large scale for industrial application in different sectors. Policies required for the agro-food waste management and options for their utilization are also discussed along with the sources of their generation. Presents the foundation of agro-food waste management including green nanotechnology. Includes multiple management techniques and their potential benefits. Explores the proper mechanisms of synthesis for value-added materials and products for use in bioenergy and biofuel. Pulping and Papermaking of Nonwood Plant Fibers Z.M.A. Ainun, S. M. Sapuan, R.A. Ilyas, 2023-04-01. Pulping and Papermaking of Non-wood Plant Fibres presents the latest technologies associated with the papermaking process. With chapters specific to each non-wood species, the book provides step-by-step guidance on processes such as pulping, bleaching, blending and beating. Non-wood fibers are practical for pulp and paper production due to their chemical content of cellulose, hemicellulose and lignin percentages. Beginning with a general overview of non-wood fibers in the papermaking process, chapters then take a deep dive into different raw materials and their processes including bamboo, corn stalk, pineapple leaves and sugarcane. This book is an essential resource for researchers, scientists and industry specialists. Provides comprehensive coverage of the processes involved in pulp and papermaking technology for each species of non-wood raw materials. Written by the leading research and industrial experts in the field of pulping, bleaching, blending, beating and papermaking processes. Includes step-by-step processes and methodologies. History of Industrial Uses of Soybeans (Nonfood, Nonfeed)

How can markets help us adapt to the challenges of climate change? Editor Terry L. Anderson brings together this collection of essays featuring the work of nine leading policy analysts who argue that market forces are just as important as government regulation in shaping climate policy and should be at the heart of our response to helping societies adapt to climate change. Anderson notes in his introduction that most current climate policies such as the Paris Agreement require hard-to-enforce collective action and focus on reducing or mitigating greenhouse gases rather than adapting to their negative effects. Adaptive actions can typically deliver much more faster and more cheaply than any realistic climate policy. The authors tackle a range of issues the hidden costs of renewable energy sources the political obstacles surrounding climate change policy insurance and financial instruments for pricing risk of exposure to the effects of climate change and more Reliance on emerging renewable energies and a carbon tax are not enough to prevent the effects of global warming they argue We must encourage more private action and market incentives to adapt to a rapidly changing climate California Agriculture,2018-04 Mind the gap: To what extent do social, economic, and psychological factors explain underperformance in achievements assessments?
