About the Author

THEODORE S. RAPPAPORT holds the William and Bertha Moore Chair in Electrical Engineering at the University of Texas, Austin and is the James H. and Patricia H. Moore Professor of Communications Engineering and Emerging Technologies. From 1980 to 1990 he founded the Mobile & Portable Radio Research Group at Virginia Tech, one of the first university research and educational programs focused on wireless communications. Rappaport has developed dozens of commercial products and used his many careers and publications, the two often related fundamental research and teaching on new methods for analyzing short channel and in wireless channels around the globe. His current research focuses on new methods for analyzing and developing wireless systems facilitated and partially funded by emerging frequency bands, and on new development, modeling, and practical use of 3-D ultra-wideband propagation techniques for future wireless networks.
