Guidelines For Nonsexist Usage:

Women and Language in Transition Joyce Penfield, 1987-01-01 This collection of essays deals with the interplay of language and social change asking the question How can language and society be made gender equal The contributors examine the critical role of language in the lives of white women and women of color in the United States Since language pervades many dimensions of women s lives this study takes a multi disciplinary approach to the issues considered The volume is divided into three sections The first Liberating Language focuses on the active role women had in altering the extent of linguistic sexism in English during the 1970s A second section Identity Creation deals with the alteration of that portion of language which serves to name women and their experiences The final section Women of Color offers a rare and timely look at the particular problems confronted by minority women It argues that women of color have different problems and different links to language than white middle class women

Handbook of Language and Communication:

Diversity and Change Marlis Hellinger, Anne Pauwels, 2008-09-25 In line with the overall perspective of the Handbook series the focus of Vol 9 is on language related problems arising in the context of linguistic diversity and change and the contributions Applied Linguistics can offer for solutions Part I Language minorities and inequality presents situations of language contact and linguistic diversity as world wide phenomena The focus is on indigenous and immigrant linguistic minorities their lack of access to linguistic rights through language policies and the impact on their linguistic future Part II Language planning and language change focuses on the impact of colonialism imperialism globalisation and economics as factors that language policies and planning measures must account for in responding to problems deriving from language contact and linguistic diversity Part III Language variation and change in institutional contexts examines language related problems in selected institutional areas of communication education the law religion science the Internet which will often derive from socioeconomic cultural and other non linguistic asymmetries Part IV The discourse of linguistic diversity and language change analyses linguistic diversity language change and language reform as issues of public debates which are informed by different ideological positions values and attitudes e g with reference to sexism racism and political correctness The volume also contains extensive reference sections and index material
