Consumer Tribes Avi Shankar, Bernard Cova, Robert Kozinets, 2012-06-25 Marketing and consumer research has traditionally conceptualized consumers as individuals who exercise choice in the marketplace as individuals not as a class or a group However an important new perspective is now emerging that rejects the individualistic view and focuses on the reality that human life is essentially social and that who we are is an inherently social phenomenon It is the tribus the many little groups we belong to that are fundamental to our experience of life Tribal Marketing shows that it is not individual consumption of products that defines our lives but rather that this activity actually facilitates meaningful social relationships The social links social relationships are more important than the things brands etc The aim of this book is therefore to offer a systematic overview of the area that has been defined as cultures of consumption consumption microcultures brand cultures brand tribes and brand communities It is though these that students of marketing and marketing practitioners can begin to genuinely understand the real drivers of consumer behaviour It will be essential to everyone who needs to understand the new paradigm in consumer research brand management and communications management

Color Trends and Selection for Product Design Doreen Becker, 2016-05-13 Color Trends and Selection for Product Design Every Color Sells a Story speaks to the needs of the manufacturing level where colorants are developed helping manufacturers to understand where their colors will sell and for what period of time these products will be viable It covers issues such as stability color measurement and new methods of incorporation which are critical in the development of new colorants The book helps product designers more effectively reach their target audiences by helping them understand more about how colors are chosen for particular markets and how certain colors will perform in designs including how to evaluate color under different lighting conditions and in or on different materials Knowing how colors will perform in each material and how they will be seen on a store shelf or show room floor is vital The book gives an important insight into future trends including new design methods for creating color prototypes and regulatory requirements The color designer needs to better understand the world of the color formulator and the formulator conversely needs to understand the needs of the designer so this book is written for both Provides an expert assessment of future trends in color helping color manufacturers to understand how their customers and brand owners select colors Covers the critical issues of stability color measurement and new methods of incorporation helping engineers evaluate color performance in different designs materials and lighting conditions Helps readers stay ahead of the competition with discussions of important regulations and trends in green colors and product design
