

Hunting The Hunter

It was a dark and stormy night as Emily drove down the winding road, her headlights barely illuminating the way ahead. She had taken a wrong turn and was now lost in the middle of nowhere. Suddenly, she saw a figure in the distance, a shadowy figure standing by the side of the road. Emily slowed down, wondering if she should stop and offer help. As she got closer, she realized it was a man, and he was beckoning her to come closer.

Published in English under the title Harpoon of the Hunter in 1970 by McGill-Queen's University Press, that version of the story was Patsauq's own adaptation. In the years that followed, the widely acclaimed English edition was translated into many different languages, but what has remained obscured until the present day is the Inuktitut text originally produced by the author. In collaboration with Patsauq, Valerie Henitiuk and Marc Antoine Mahieu have foregrounded the original Inuktitut text to inform their translations into both English and French. This critical edition, complete with the story in both Inuktitut syllabics and Latin script, utilizes the author's handwritten manuscript as well as interviews with Patsauq to produce a new rigorous examination of this literary and cultural milestone. This work also includes the first comprehensive account of the critical response to his writing while underscoring the way the much altered
