Jackson Public School District Pacing Guide 2015:

Resegregation as Curriculum Jerry Rosiek, Kathy Kinslow, 2015-12-22 Blending critical race theory contemporary pragmatism and the new materialism this book raises questions about methodology power and change Educational policy analysis needs this book as do curriculum studies teacher education and antiracist work for its focus on how policy is lived by those on the receiving end of structural oppression Patti Lather Department of Education Studies Ohio State university This provocative analysis offered by Rosiek and Kinslow offers an opportunity for researchers policy makers and school leaders and educators to think about the lived experience of Black students in desegregating and resegregating schools The authors precisely detail the path leading to social and education policies that generated more suffering for Black students and also served to maintain white racial advantage in urban schools and communities Michael J Dumas graduate School of Education and African American Studies Department University of California Berkeley Calling for an ontological reorientation to combat the force of whiteness Rosiek and Kinslow present agonizing interviews with students subjected to resegregation and institutional racism They call for readers to inhabit a respectful solidarity with the students who analyze their experience with sharp insight outrage despair and resolve Stacy Alaimo Professor of English University of Texas at Arlington

Resegregation as Curriculum offers a compelling look at the formation and implementation of school resegregation as contemporary education policy as well as its impact on the meaning of schooling for students subject to such policies Working from a ten year study of a school district undergoing a process of resegregation Rosiek and Kinslow examine the ways this new racial segregation is rationalized and the psychological and sociological effects it has on the children of all races in that community Drawing on critical race theory agential realism and contemporary pragmatist semiotics the authors expose how these events functioned as a hidden curriculum that has profound repercussions on the students identity formation self worth conceptions of citizenship and social hope This important account of racial stratification of educational opportunity expands our understanding of the negative consequences of racial segregation in schools and serves as a critical resource for academics educators and experts who are concerned about the effects of resegregation nationwide

Resegregation as Curriculum was the recipient of the O L Davis Book of the year award from the American Association for Teaching and Curriculum 2016

Curriculum Windows Thomas S. Poetter, Kelly Waldrop, Tasneem Amatullah, Cleighton Weiland, Jody Googins, Vanessa Winn, 2017-04-01 Curriculum Windows What Curriculum Theorists of the 1990s Can Teach Us about Schools and Society Today is an effort by students of curriculum studies along with their professor to interpret and understand curriculum texts and theorists of the 1990s in contemporary terms The authors explore how key books authors from the curriculum field of the 1990s illuminate new possibilities forward for us as scholar educators today How might the theories practices and ideas wrapped up in curriculum texts of the 1990s still resonate with us allow us to see backward in time and forward in time all at the same time How might these figurative windows of insight thought ideas fantasy and fancy

make us think differently about curriculum teaching learning students education leadership and schools Further how might they help us see more clearly even perhaps put us on a path to correct the mistakes and missteps of intervening decades and of today The chapter authors and editor revisit and interpret several of the most important works in the curriculum field of the 1990s The book's Foreword is by renowned curriculum theorist William H Schubert

Investigating the Roles of School Management Teams in Curriculum Delivery Mawela, Ailwei Solomon, van Wyk, Micheal M., Lebeloane, Lazarus, Mudau, Awelani V., 2021-06-25 The COVID 19 pandemic has introduced a new paradigm in education that has forced school management teams to re imagine their curricula delivery functions and obligations during and post COVID 19 Now there are concerns about the state to which curriculum delivery in schools is likely to become planned implemented and managed Investigating the Roles of School Management Teams in Curriculum Delivery improves the quality of planning implementation and management of curriculum delivery to advance the quality of teaching and learning in schools Particularly it envisages innovative strategies best practices and addresses problems in the planning implementation and delivery of curricula by school management teams Covering topics such as curriculum delivery theory curriculum delivery in planning implementation and management during and post COVID 19 curriculum delivery in assessment and alternative assessment and reimagining inclusivity in curriculum delivery this edited book is essential for departmental heads deputy principals education district officials department of basic education curriculum designers instructional designers administrators academicians university teachers researchers and post graduate students

School Libraries 3.0 Rebecca P. Butler, 2015-06-18 This textbook for school library administration courses is written by a professor who has taught this course at least once a year for the past twenty years Technology is interwoven throughout the book and not listed as a separate chapter or book section This is because the school librarian of today and certainly the school librarian of tomorrow is working in an environment of web resources multimedia mixed methods and varying programs and services Major chapters cover the various roles of the school librarian curricular standards and guidelines policies and procedures budgeting facilities personnel services programming ethics advocacy and evaluation Sample policies procedures and plans make this book valuable to both new and experienced school librarians

Race, Curriculum, and the Politics of Educational Justice Wayne Au, This one of a kind collection will help today's educators feel and understand the power that communities can harness through organizing and solidarity This volume highlights some of Wayne Au's most impactful essays and articles across his 25 years as an educator activist and scholar In this carefully curated collection Au traces the development of his politics and analyses of schooling education policy curriculum and racialization Featuring concrete examples chapters address antiracist education and the politics of knowledge the racial politics of high stakes testing and neoliberal education reforms and the racialization of Asian Americans as a model minority and its connection to anti Blackness Importantly this book illustrates the power of writing for different audiences by placing scholarly essays alongside those written for teachers parents and community members while also linking educational activism with educational research In addition to providing a broad examination of the politics of curriculum and educational policy in America Book Features Written by an internationally known scholar in the areas of curriculum multicultural and antiracist education high stakes testing and neoliberal reforms racial justice and critical education Provides a model for how to translate educational research and analysis between academic and public discourses embodying the intersections of theory practice and justice Combines searing political analysis of education with the hope offered through activism solidarity and educational justice Nothing Has to Make Sense Sherene H. Razack, 2022-04-19 How Western nations have consolidated their whiteness through the figure of the Muslim in the post 9 11 world While much has been written about post 9 11 anti Muslim racism often termed Islamophobia insufficient attention has been given to how anti Muslim racism operates through law and is a vital part of law s protection of whiteness This book fills this gap while also providing a unique new global perspective on white supremacy Sherene H Razack a leading critical race and feminist scholar takes an innovative approach by situating law within media discourses and historical and contemporary realities We may think of law as logical but argues Razack its logic breaks down when the subject is Muslim Tracing how white subjects and majority white nations in the post 9 11 era have consolidated their whiteness through the figure of the Muslim Razack examines four sites of anti Muslim racism efforts by American evangelical Christians to ban Islam in the school curriculum Canadian and European bans on Muslim women s clothing racial science and the sentencing of Muslims as terrorists and American national memory of the torture of Muslims during wars and occupations Arguing that nothing has to make sense when the subject is Muslim she maintains that these legal and cultural sites reveal the dread phobia hysteria and desire that mark the encounter between Muslims and the West Through the prism of racism Nothing Has to Make Sense argues that the figure of the Muslim reveals a world divided between the deserving and the disposable where people of European origin are the former and all others are confined in various ways to regimes of disposability Emerging from critical race theory and bridging with Islamophobia critical religious studies it demonstrates that anti Muslim racism is a revelatory window into the operation of white supremacy as a global force

Sivasubramaniam,Ruth Hayhoe,2018-01-01 Despite the increased trend towards secularisation in state schooling issues of religion and spirituality have remained important Increased pluralism within societies through expanding migration patterns is changing the religious and cultural contours of many countries in Europe and North America and is creating a need for a deeper understanding of religious diversity However the lack of religious or spiritual education within the educational curriculum leaves a moral vacuum that can become a space to be exploited by religious extremism More recently religiously motivated incidences of terrorism in several parts of the world have heightened prejudicial attitudes and distrust of certain religions in particular These are profound concerns and there is an urgency to examine how religion religious education and interfaith initiatives can address such misconceptions This book is thus timely focusing on an area that is often neglected particularly on the role of religion in education for sustainable development While religious organisations and faith communities have had a long history of involvement in both schooling and social service delivery in many countries their role in reaching development goals has not always been explicitly recognised as is evident even in the United Nations most recently conceptualised 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development Undeniably the integration of religious dialogue into mainstream development issues is crucial because deep cleavages resulting from the issue of minority religious rights continue to give cause for concern and conflict in many countries This edited book explores some of these tensions and issues and draws parallels across differing geographical contexts to help enhance our collective and comparative understanding of the role of religious education and institutions in advancing the post 2015 development agenda The contributors to this volume each demonstrate that while religion in education can contribute to understanding and respect it is also a space that can be contested and co opted Without addressing the salience of religion however it will not be possible to foster peace and combat discrimination and prejudice This book will be of interest to researchers scholars and students in the field of comparative education and development religious studies theology and teacher development and training This book may also be of interest to national and international policy makers There are also numerous faith based organisations as well as other non governmental organisations NGOs working on religion and education issues that may find these case studies a useful resource

Encyclopedia of Education and Human Development Stephen J. Farenga, Daniel Ness, 2015-07-17 This comprehensive and exhaustive reference work on the subject of education from the primary grades through higher education combines educational theory with practice making it a unique contribution to the educational reference market Issues related to human development and learning are examined by individuals whose specializations are in diverse areas including education psychology sociology philosophy law and medicine The book focuses on important themes in education and human development Authors consider each entry from the perspective of its social and political conditions as well as historical underpinnings The book also explores the people whose contributions have played a seminal role in the shaping of educational ideas institutions and organizations and includes entries on these institutions and organizations This work integrates numerous theoretical frameworks with field based applications from many areas in educational research
