Decolonising Teacher Education Parlo Singh, Deborah Heck, Stephen Heimans, Angelina Ambrosetti, 2024-12-12 This book makes a deliberate attempt to explore the complexity of decolonising theories in teacher education. It draws attention to the historical and emerging impacts of colonialism on educational institutions and practices, challenging educators to expand their understanding of diverse trajectories of decolonial research both theoretically and practically. It adds to the discussions and dialogues between different disciplinary traditions such as postcolonial and decolonial studies as well as critical Indigenous and critical race studies. As an international compilation, it offers educators a unique opportunity to envision teacher education through alternative lenses, rethinking the relationship between ontology, epistemology, and ethics that is what constitutes knowledge, how it is produced, and what material worlds are constructed in and through knowledge research systems. Through compelling examples, this book illustrates how educators have navigated epistemic injustices within the field of teacher education amidst the rising global demands for standardisation. It encourages teacher educators to explore alternative theories within their own contexts, crafting new teacher education practices in universities and schools.

Schooling for Sustainable Development in Africa Heila Lotz-Sisitka, Overson Shumba, Justin Lupele, Di Wilmot, 2016-11-11 This book considers the scope and dynamics of Education for Sustainable Development (ESD) and learning in schools in Africa. It explores the conditions and processes that support such learning and examines how ESD in schooling can improve the quality and relevance of education. The quality of education has been defined internationally as a key concern for educational institutions around the world, including schools in Africa. The models of quality are often limited to performance-based approaches and/or inclusive approaches. The contributions in this book show that there is more to a discussion on educational quality in Africa than performance success and/or inclusion. The chapters explain how ESD brings a new relevance to education in Africa and at the same time sounds the beginning of a new concept of quality education. The volume presents a collection of experiences in creating and supporting quality learning processes through a variety of ESD practices. Men, Masculinities and Health M. Hall, Steve Robertson, 2009-10-23 Men drink too much alcohol, eat unhealthy food, and avoid going to the doctors until they are seriously ill. Indeed, some say being masculine is bad for men's health. But is the situation so simple? This deeply engaging book explores both the psychological and sociological factors that affect men and their health. It investigates how notions of maleness impact on the individual's approach to health and take-up of services and provides clear foundations for best practice in care. Part 1 of the book explores and sets the theoretical scene. It asks why disparate fields have not previously been brought together and what theoretical frameworks could be utilised to assist in this process. Parts 2 and 3 consider empirical work in relation to men's health and illness, providing critical rather than simply descriptive accounts. Bringing together an international collection of contributors, Men, Masculinities and Health provides fresh ideas for practice, creating a fertile terrain for future debate that will excite all those interested in gender issues. Models,

Measurement, and Metrology Extending the SI William P. Fisher, Jr., Leslie Pendrill, 2024-09-23 The book focuses on the extension of quality assured measurement and metrology into psychological and social domains This is not only feasible and achievable but also a pressing concern Significant progress in developing a common conceptual system for measurement across the sciences has been made in recent collaborations between metrologists and psychometricians as reported in the chapters of this book Modeling estimation and interpretation of objectively reproducible unit quantities that support both general comparability and adaptation to unique local circumstances are demonstrated in fields as diverse as artificial intelligence justice and beauty perception

Emerging Voices Human Sciences Research Council, Education Policy Consortium (South Africa), 2005 This examination graphically illustrates the conditions that make dreams of a better life for all virtually unrealizable in rural areas of South Africa Through the voices of rural people themselves this study tells not only what the problems surrounding education are but also what can and should be done when the South African government launches its offensive against poverty in rural areas Rigorous and qualitative the text is an overview of the need of great numbers of people for the opportunities and capabilities that education can provide for their futures It also shows the existing situation of many impoverished populations worldwide and illustrates that poverty and inequality continue where such issues are not addressed
