Micro Finance And Women:

Micro-Credit, Poverty and Empowerment Neera Burra, Joy Deshmukh-Ranadive, Ranjani K Murthy, 2005-11-05 Two persistent problems that affect a significant portion of Indian women are poverty and violation of their human rights. In recent years, micro credit has come to be viewed as a vital tool to ameliorate both conditions. However, there are few studies in the Indian context which test the validity of the assumption that there is a linear link between micro credit, poverty reduction, and women's empowerment. This important and thought-provoking volume brings together revealing case studies of micro credit interventions made by six non-governmental and quasi-governmental bodies in five states of peninsular India, several of which have been supported by the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP). The six case studies are diverse in terms of their socio-economic and geo-political contexts, the nature and ideological orientation of the intermediary organizations, the groups targeted by the projects (exclusively women or men and women), and the life spans of the projects. Despite their differences, all the studies offer useful lessons on the institutional structures and processes that do or do not facilitate women's empowerment and poverty reduction while exploring the potential and limitations of micro credit to achieve these twin goals. Empowering Women Through Microfinance in Developing Countries Alhassan, Yahaya, Nwagbara, Uzoechi, 2023-10-25 Empowering Women Through Microfinance in Developing Countries is a book that explores how microfinance can be used to empower women in developing countries. It provides theoretical and empirical insights from industry experts, experienced researchers, and policymakers on the problems, processes, and prospects of using microfinance as a catalyst for women's empowerment in the developing world. The book covers a range of topics, including the impact of microfinance interventions on women's empowerment, financial inclusion, and women's entrepreneurship; poverty reduction among women; and small and medium-sized enterprise growth. This book addresses the lack of understanding about how microfinance can be used to empower women in developing countries. The insights provided in this book will be valuable for researchers, students, microfinance institutions, policymakers, state institutions, managers, non-governmental organizations, and financial institutions looking to expand their product portfolio and outreach. The book also provides policy directions and rethinking of practice in using microfinance as a strategy for eliminating barriers to women's empowerment in developing countries. Micro-finance and the empowerment of women : a review of the key issues

Linda Mayoux, 2000 Microfinance and Women's Empowerment in Bangladesh Faraha Nawaz, 2019-03-01 This book examines the effects of policies and practices of microfinance NGOs in empowering rural women in Bangladesh. Nawaz seeks to unpack the untold narratives of women's empowerment and to fill the current knowledge gap in this area. The book goes beyond the narrow minimalist evaluation of microfinance that only focuses on women's economic empowerment through their ability to access financial resources. Rather, it looks at whether and how microfinance empowers women in a holistic manner across the socio-cultural, psychological, and political spheres of life. The author argues that microfinance reduces levels of poverty which means that women are better able to meet their practical gender needs however they are not empowered unless they are also able to meet their strategic gender needs including the transformation of gender power relations from the household to state arenas Therefore the book argues that in order to bring about higher levels of empowerment microfinance programs must be combined with other services such as financial literacy socioeconomic training education healthcare social mobilization and legal support Microfinance and Women s Empowerment in Bangladesh will be of interest to students and scholars across a range of disciplines including Gender Studies Development Studies and Politics
