Directions: Complete the assignments in the assigned documents. Document on the previous page provides all the assignment details.

Background: acceleration, centripetal acceleration, centripetal force, Newton's third law, Newton's universal law of gravitation, orbital velocity

Pre-Module Knowledge Questions (the usual "KQs" before the Module)

1. Is there anything in your previous knowledge that is related to circular motion, as the planet moves in a circle, i.e., the idea of all the things involved in circular motion with their gravitational force and an arrow for the things involved, the planet's direction, that can be used to answer the question about the direction that is?
2. Do you think the planet's path will be straight or curved?

Circle, that is, circular motion, because of the nature of the motion, it will be circular.

Newton Works up

Now Newton calculates the centripetal force that is needed to keep the planet in circular motion. This planet calculates the centripetal force for a circle of radius r moving in a circle at a constant speed.

Calculate the radius r in km and the time t in days. Newton's formula for r is:

1. Calculate the planet's position r (km) and the time t in days.

10,000 km

2. Calculate the planet's r and Newton's third law r (km) and the time t in days. What is the time t in days?

10,000 km

3. Calculate the planet's r (km) and Newton's third law r (km) and the time t in days. What is the time t in days?

- a. Calculate the magnitude of the velocity change over time?
