Choucrist,David D. Clark,2019-04-09 A foundational analysis of the co evolution of the internet and international relations examining resultant challenges for individuals organizations firms and states In our increasingly digital world data flows define the international landscape as much as the flow of materials and people How is cyberspace shaping international relations and how are international relations shaping cyberspace In this book Nazli Choucrist and David D Clark offer a foundational analysis of the co evolution of cyberspace with the internet as its core and international relations examining resultant challenges for individuals organizations and states The authors examine the pervasiveness of power and politics in the digital realm finding that the internet is evolving much faster than the tools for regulating it This creates a co evolution dilemma a new reality in which digital interactions have enabled weaker actors to influence or threaten stronger actors including the traditional state powers Choucrist and Clark develop a new method for addressing control in the internet age control point analysis and apply it to a variety of situations including major actors in the international and digital realms the United States China and Google In doing so they lay the groundwork for a new international relations theory that reflects the reality in which we live one in which the international and digital realms are inextricably linked and evolving together

The Global Transformation Barry Buzan,George Lawson,2015-02-05 This book shows how the political economic military and cultural revolutions of the nineteenth century shaped modern international relations Structural Power in the Global Age Xuewu Gu,2022-10-07 In light of recent global trends and crises including the hasty withdrawal of Western troops from Afghanistan and the Russian war of aggression against Ukraine this book sheds new light on global power shifts in multiple areas of international relations between industrialized countries and emerging powers This book argues that the global age is rapidly supplanting the modern age and that modernity is paving the way for globality The events that are taking place in the 21st century can no longer be effectively described understood or explained by the concept of modernity which originated more than 500 years ago Further this book challenges the academic and societal tendency to view international power related phenomena on the basis of a dichotomy between hard and soft power. It assumes that another power source independent of hard and soft power does exist. Invisible structure manipulating and effectively leveraged it is precisely this third power that drives and shapes power phenomena in the global age more intensively than either hard or soft power. This book seeks to verify its core hypotheses by applying them to a set of selected global phenomena particularly from the domains of geopolitics: Belt Road Initiative, Iran conflict, war in Afghanistan, and competition for a new world order and technology. Global Navigation Satellite Systems, 5G infrastructure race for international standards, and ICT rivalry. Rather than systematically examining each of these issues, it focuses on extracting theoretical meanings from these cases to demonstrate the logic of globality and structural power partly from global horizontal perspectives, partly through a structural vertical lens.
