Robbins, Clayton Crockett, 2018-11-08 This book is a work of theological resistance It is not so much about the presidency of Donald Trump as it is about what his popularity and rise to power reveal about the state of Christianity and the moral character of the evangelical Right in the United States today More specifically it is about the threat of white Christian nationalism which is the particular form that the nationalist populist movement of Trumpism has adopted for itself The contributors are all fellows from the Westar Institute's academic seminar on God and the Human Future and include many of the leading figures in theology and Continental philosophy of religion This volume provides a form of theopolitical resistance based on intersectionality The authors recognize how the various forms of oppression interrelate to contribute to a vast dynamic and seeming impenetrable network of systemic injustice and marginalization These essays demonstrate that politics need not be played as a zero sum game with a winner take all mentality and that a critical theology is as urgently needed and as relevant now as ever      Pleasure, Profit, Proselytism J A Mangan, 2020-07-24 This book examines aspects of sport which Britain nurtured within its own culture and also transmitted to overseas territories with the expansion of empire      Remaking History Jerome De Groot, 2015-07-30 Remaking History considers the ways that historical fictions of all kinds enable a complex engagement with the past Popular historical texts including films television and novels along with cultural phenomena such as superheroes and vampires broker relationships to history while also enabling audiences to understand the ways in which the past is written structured and ordered Jerome de Groot uses examples from contemporary popular culture to show the relationship between fiction and history in two key ways Firstly the texts pedagogically contribute to the historical imaginary and secondly they allow reflection upon how the past is constructed as history In doing so they provide an accessible and engaging means to critique conceptualize and reject the processes of historical representation The book looks at the use of the past in fiction from sources including Mad Men Downton Abbey and Howard Brenton's Anne Boleyn along with the work of directors such as Terence Malick Quentin Tarantino and Martin Scorsese to show that fictional representations enable a comprehension of the fundamental strangeness of the past and the ways in which this foreign exotic other is constructed Drawing from popular films novels and TV series of recent years and engaging with key thinkers from Marx to Derrida Remaking History is a must for all students interested in the meaning that history has for fiction and vice versa
