The aim of this volume is to highlight the benefits and potential of using learner corpora for the testing and assessment of L2 proficiency in both speaking and writing, reflecting the growing importance of learner corpora in applied linguistics and second language acquisition research. Identifying several desiderata for future research and practice, the volume presents a selection of original studies covering a variety of different languages. It features studies that present very thoroughly compiled new corpus resources which are tailor made and ready for analysis in LTA, new tools for the automatic assessment of proficiency levels and new methods of self assessment with the help of learner corpora. Language Myths and Realities Qianqian Zhang-Wu, 2021-11-15
Higher education institutions in Anglophone countries often rely on standardized English language proficiency exams to assess the linguistic capabilities of their multilingual international students. However, there is often a mismatch between these scores and the initial experiences of international students in both academic and social contexts. Drawing on a digital ethnography of Chinese international students' first semester languaging practices, this book examines their challenges, needs and successes on their initial languaging journeys in higher education. It analyzes how they use their rich multilingual and multi-modal communicative repertoires to facilitate languaging across contexts in order to suggest how university support systems might better serve the needs of multilingual international students The Children's Literature Selection Handbook, K-8 Christie
