Capozucca, Manuel Mazzara, Bertrand Meyer, Alexandr Naumchev, Andrey Sadovykh, 2020-08-11 This book constitutes invited papers from the First International Workshop on Frontiers in Software Engineering Education FISEE 2019 which took place during November 11-13 2019 at the Chateau de Villebrumier France. The 25 papers included in this volume were considerably enhanced after the conference and during two different peer review phases. The contributions cover a wide range of problems in teaching software engineering and are organized in the following sections: Course experience, lessons learnt, curriculum and course design, competitions and workshops, empirical studies, tools and automation, globalization of education and learning by doing. The final part, TOOLS Workshop Artificial and Natural Tools (ANT), contains submissions presented at a different but related workshop run at Innopolis University, Russia, in the context of the TOOLS 2019 conference. FISEE 2019 is part of a series of scientific events held at the new LASER center in Villebrumier near Montauban and Toulouse, France.

An Age of Accountability John L. Rury, 2023-10-13 An Age of Accountability highlights the role of test-based accountability as a policy framework in American education from 1970 to 2020. For more than half a century, the quest to hold schools and educators accountable for academic achievement has relied almost exclusively on standardized assessment. The theory of change embedded in almost all test-based accountability programs held that assessment with stipulated consequences could lead to major improvements in schools. This was accomplished politically by proclaiming lofty goals of attaining universal proficiency and closing achievement gaps which repeatedly failed to materialize. But even after very clear disappointments, no other policy framework has emerged to challenge its hegemony. The American public today has little confidence in institutions to improve the quality of goods and services they provide, especially in the public sector. As a consequence, many Americans continue to believe that accountability remains a vital necessity, even if educators and policy scholars disagree. The Northwestern Miller, 1896 Pittsburgh Legal Journal, 1876. Containing reports from Pennsylvania judicial districts and other leading decisions. The City Record New York (N.Y.), 1918 Marijuana Federalism Jonathan H. Adler, 2020-03-17 On marijuana, there is no mutual federal-state policy; will this cause federalism to go up in smoke? More than one-half the 50 states have legalized the use of marijuana at least for medical purposes, and about a dozen of those states have gone further, legalizing it for recreational use. Either step would have been almost inconceivable just a couple of decades ago. But marijuana remains an illegal controlled substance under a 1970 federal law, so those who sell or grow it could still face federal prosecution. How can state and federal laws be in such conflict? And could federal law put the new state laws in jeopardy at some point? This book, an edited volume with contributions by highly regarded legal scholars and policy analysts, is the first detailed examination of these and other questions surrounding a highly unusual conflict between state and federal policies and laws. Marijuana Federalism surveys the constitutional issues that come into play with this conflict, as well as the policy questions related to law enforcement at the federal versus state levels. It also describes specific areas such as banking regulations in which federal law has particularly far-reaching effects. Readers will gain a greater understanding of federalism in general including how the division of authority between the federal and state governments operates in the context of policy and legal disputes between the two levels This book also will help inform debates as other states consider whether to jump on the bandwagon of marijuana legalization Hoard's Dairyman ,1900
