Advancing Africa's Sustainable Development Alain L. Fymat, 2018-11-14 While many African countries lag behind the rest of the industrialised world in scientific and medical research and development the situation is progressively improving This is why the Society for the Advancement of Science in Africa was established to contribute to economic advancement and sustainability through science research education and innovation This book provides a selection of papers from the Advancement of Science in Africa s fourth annual conference The conference was held under the overarching theme of science technology and innovation in Africa with several important sub themes including but not limited to improving health research and disease surveillance education collaborating in research responding to epidemic diseases with high mortality in Africa and promoting women s interest in science careers The collection illustrates how although the chapter contributors come from various countries and universities representing their own academic research they all share a common interest in advancing science technology and innovation in Africa

Contextualizing Indigenous Knowledge in Africa and its Diaspora Ibigbolade Aderibigbe, Alloy Ihuah, Felisters Kripono, 2015-09-04 This volume proposes a wholesale adoption of African Indigenous Knowledge Systems AIKS as a paradigm for Africa s renewal and freedom from the whims of foreign interests These systems as argued here involve balancing short term thinking and immediate gratification with longer term planning for future generations of Africans and the continent s diaspora The book will be of interest to anyone concerned with development studies in Africa and its diaspora as it offers plausible solutions to Africa s chronic developmental problems that can only be provided from within Africa rather than through the intervention of external third parties As such it provides vital contributions to the ongoing search for viable answers to the challenges that Africa faces today
