

5 English 1010: English Composition and Rhetoric

English 1010 is the first year composition course for most incoming freshmen. Placement in the course is determined primarily by ACT/SAT scores (see section 2.4 Placement) or having passed English 0990. The course generally instructs students in writing the collegiate essay, emphasizing different strategies for organizing essays (these strategies are often referred to as rhetorical modes and include comparison, narrative, description, analysis, argument, classification, and cause/effect). Further emphasis is placed on the development of supporting information. Some work with grammar and basic errors is expected. Students are also introduced to the MLA research paper.

Instructors are expected to introduce students to the process approach to writing, emphasizing predrafting exercises, revision of drafts, and editing. Methodologies using peer and group editing and peer review are encouraged, as are individual conferences and group writing. Instructors should also incorporate assignments that introduce students to writing for different audiences.

5.1 Guidelines & Objectives

Instructors are encouraged to have students revise and redraft essays. Since revision and editing are crucial parts of the writing process, it is acceptable to allow students to revise graded papers for a second grade. However, it is recommended that such practices should be used in a way that aid students in developing their own revision skills and not depend on the instructor for editing comments.

The objectives of English 1010 primarily focus on the following:

- Students should appreciate writing as a process.
- Students should be able to write approximately 500 word essays in a variety of styles that are free of basic syntax errors and are well-organized and supported.
- Students should be able to respond confidently and knowledgeably to the writing of others.
- Students should be able to research and compose a 6 to 10 page research paper in MLA style.

5.1.1 The Essay

Students in English 1010 are required to write six (6) to eight (8) essays during the semester of approximately 300 to 500 words. These essays should be for a variety of audiences and incorporate a variety of strategies for organization (such as narration, description, comparison-contrast, definition, classification, argumentation, process and cause and effect). Students should be encouraged to draft in-class and share their work with other students. Multiple drafts should be strongly encouraged.

5.1.2 The Research Paper

The research paper is probably the most difficult portion of English 1010 for both instructors and students. Instructors should start the research paper early and closely monitor students' progress in researching and writing the research paper, as research shows that such papers are the ones most plagiarized from outside sources such as internet papermills. Instructors should take special care in explaining such practices as direct quoting, summarizing, and paraphrasing to students. They should also explain the
