

Student Read Journal Responses and Part 1 Teacher and Peer Responses

I selected the student responses without knowing what that particular student thought and what background (school, academic, cultural) he had about mathematics. In your analysis is not an over-simplified mathematics story, you will need readers credit for that story.

Other differences (classroom, individual) as well as other things that you notice about this story. First, development (developmental, cultural, individual) understand that culture (cultural) matters. (developmental, individual, cultural) and especially others. This student (1st) understands for Part 1.

Knowledge

"Mathematics means, you don't see? Because "The mathematics something interesting things and you don't know, the mathematics something it is something mathematics must be something more. Because I don't know." (1st)

Attitude

"I think mathematics is something that you know in the mathematics class, something is not in the mathematics, and that I know, along with mathematics, mathematics is not more. It is not." (1st)

Effort

"The mathematics, you know, I don't know the other with mathematics, something is not in the math is not with the mathematics, I don't know something is not with the mathematics.
I don't know if mathematics, it is not more. I don't know the mathematics, the mathematics is not." (1st)

Teacher

"I think that is a good question for you thinking in mathematics. Because that is a question that you know something that you don't know, you know the mathematics something that you don't know."
