Impact of Immigration and Xenophobia on Development in Africa Mafukata, Mavhungu Abel, 2020-12-25 Human movement has an influence on the socio economic dynamics of people regions and countries The schisms between host and immigrants impact how host countries utilize immigrant skills and expertise to benefit their economies However immigrants are impacted by negative diplomatic relations between countries that limit the free movement of people and the welfare of immigrants. In association, this brings about social challenges such as Afrophobia, racism, xenophobia, hatred, and violence within these countries. While these challenges are deeply rooted across the world, Africa has its own unique challenges. Still struggling with massive underdevelopment, Africa needs to remove all the negative factors that could impede its quest of achieving development imperatives.

Impact of Immigration and Xenophobia on Development in Africa analyzes the genesis and evolution of immigration in Africa and how this has resulted in social challenges such as xenophobia within the continent. The book focuses on demonstrating how immigrant skills and expertise can be positively utilized to assist African development and asserts the existence of xenophobia in respective countries does not assist Africa's quest of resolving its own challenges. The chapters within this book therefore explore how this subsequent output of xenophobia has impacted African development and focuses on the revival of Pan Africanism as a uniting instrument and ideology for Africans. This book is a valuable reference tool for activists, retired and practicing politicians, governments, policymakers, practitioners, stakeholders, researchers, students, and academicians.

Rebels and Rage Adam Habib, 2019-03-01 Adam Habib, the most prominent and outspoken university official through the recent student protests, takes a characteristically frank view of the past three years on South Africa's campuses. In this new book, Habib charts the progress of the student protests that erupted on Wits University campus in late 2015 and raged for the better part of three years, drawing on his own intimate involvement and negotiation with the students and also records university management and government responses to the events. He critically examines the student movement and individual student leaders who emerged under the banners feesmustfall and Rhodesmustfall and debates how to achieve truly progressive social change in South Africa on our campuses and off. This book is both an attempt at a historical account and a thoughtful reflection on the issues the protests kicked up from the perspective not only of a high-ranking member of university management but also Habib as political scientist with a background as an activist during the struggle against apartheid. Habib moves between reflecting on the events of the last three years on university campuses and reimagining the future of South African higher education.

USA and the UK This is primarily done to examine and expose the current strengths and weaknesses of market abuse laws in relation to certain aspects of the corporate securities and financial markets environments in South Africa the USA and the UK Accordingly chapters two to five of the book unpack the regulation and enforcement of market abuse laws in South Africa and the USA in a comparative perspective Thereafter chapters six to eight of the book discuss the regulation and enforcement of market abuse laws Financial Markets Act 19 of 2012 and other related statutes in South Africa and the UK The book proposes some measures that could be utilised to enhance the enforcement of anti market laws in South Africa USA and the UK New market abuse related challenges that occurred during the global financial crisis are also briefly discussed The book further provides a relatively adequate overview of the comparative analysis of the regulation of market abuse in South Africa versus two key developed and respected jurisdictions namely the USA and the UK Accordingly it is hoped that the book can aid regulatory authorities financial market participants academics students and other interested readers to understand market abuse offences and possible measures that could be employed to combat such offences

Anchored in Place Bank, Leslie, Cloete, Nico, 2018-11-05 Tensions in South African universities have traditionally centred around equity particularly access and affordability historical legacies such as apartheid and colonialism and the shape and structure of the higher education system What has not received sufficient attention is the contribution of the university to place based development This volume is the first in South Africa to engage seriously with the place based developmental role of universities In the international literature and policy there has been an increasing integration of the university with place based development especially in cities This volume weighs in on the debate by drawing attention to the place based roles and agency of South African universities in their local towns and cities It acknowledges that universities were given specific development roles in regions homelands and towns under apartheid and comments on why sub national place based development has not been a key theme in post apartheid higher education planning Given the developmental crisis in the country universities could be expected to play a more constructive and meaningful role in the development of their own precincts cities and regions But what should that role be Is there evidence that this is already occurring in South Africa despite the lack of a national policy framework What plans and programmes are in place and what is needed to expand the development agency of universities at the local level Who and what might be involved Where should the focus lie and who might benefit most and why Is there a need perhaps to approach the challenges of college towns secondary cities and metropolitan centers differently This book poses some of these questions as it considers the experiences of a number of South African universities including Wits Pretoria Nelson Mandela University and especially Fort Hare as one of its post centenary challenges

Antimicrobials in Animal Husbandry Arti Gupta, Ram Prasad, 2025-08-04 Using antibiotics to promote growth increase feed efficiency and reduce mortality in indoor poultry farming is unsustainable and has been implicated in increased antibiotic resistance in humans The use of antibiotics in food producing animals is recognized as favoring the development of antibiotic resistance and the ongoing emergence of antibiotic resistant bacteria is a public health issue of increasing concern. The concern is that current life saving antibiotics are becoming less effective. The requirement is for more toxic and costly antibiotics reducing the available alternatives. Antibiotic use is significant in the emerging public health crisis of antibiotic resistance. Although most antibiotic use occurs in agricultural settings, relatively little attention has been paid to how antibiotic use in farm animals contributes to the overall problem of antibiotic resistance. The global spread of antimicrobial resistant pathogenic bacteria is a continuing challenge to the healthcare of humans and domesticated animals. This book discusses antimicrobial resistance mechanisms relevant to food producing animals. Students, researchers, scientists, environmentalists, veterinary practitioners, academicians, stakeholders and policymakers can benefit from using Antimicrobials in Animal Husbandry as a resource that addresses microbial biotechnology, microbiology, toxicology and all disciplines related to antimicrobial research. Features of the book: Covers antimicrobial resistance in animal husbandry with up to date research. Describes the public health impact of the use of antibiotics in animal husbandry. Includes recent references on each plausible antimicrobial resistance in human and animal health. Describes the impact of improper use of antimicrobials on animal production. Develops strategies for alternatives to antimicrobial application in food animals. Aims to minimize the health related problems of consumers resulting from antimicrobial residues in food producing animals.

Market participation of smallholder common bean producers in Malawi Lifeyo, Yanjanani, 2017-12-15. This study has analyzed the factors affecting common bean production and marketing decisions by agricultural households in Malawi. The empirical results from applying the triple hurdle model to the IHS3 data demonstrate that different sets of factors affect smallholder farmers' production, market participation and the intensity of participation decisions with respect to common beans. The location of the farmer, ownership of a radio, receipt of production extension services and FISP benefits, distance to main road and distance to the nearest market affected the agricultural household's decision to produce common beans.
