Frank Sinatra Jean Claude Götting:

The New Yorker Harold Wallace Ross, William Shawn, Tina Brown, David Remnick, Katharine Sergeant Angell White, Rea Irvin, Roger Angell, 1993-06 Happy Living Jean-Claude Götting, 2021-02-17 Dans le cadre de la préparation d'un livre sur les grands standards musicaux du XXe siècle un journaliste rend visite à M. Slatters auteur de Happy Living succès mondial des années cinquante. Ce dernier lui avoue qu'il n'est pas l'auteur de la chanson qui l'a rendu si célèbre. Il charge le journaliste de retrouver le véritable compositeur en échange de l'exclusivité de cette histoire. Robinson Crusoe tries again Werner Ustorf, 2010-09-15 The Christian experience in modern Europe is fragmented. It shows great diversity in various geographical contexts and historically a considerable alternation of extremes high or low tides of engagement. One aspect of the Christianity in Europe's past is its mission history. The spread of Christianity from the West as one of its most important results into the continents of the Global South has been deeply ambivalent in character. On the one hand the mission from the West helped to build the historical foundations for Christian education adolescence and maturation to responsible adulthood in a global diverse segregated and pluralistic world. As a mature global player Christianity was in a prime position to contribute to peaceful conflict resolution in the religious social and political fields. On the other hand the darkness and utter insufficiency of the encounter between the European Christian self and the many others worldwide brought along problematic projections of different beliefs attacked in a hostile way as alien and inevitably as conquered. The consequences particularly for the primal other the indigenous people were often disastrous. Werner Ustorf has been a leading missiologist worldwide for thirty years. This book not only analyses the interaction between mission and individual the construction of the self and the other in a mission context but also proves the analytical strength of theology in conceptualizing future Christian experiences in Europe. Ustorf illustrates that apart from traditional dimension of faith a non religious interpretation and critical trust in transcendence is crucial for the formation of the new interculturalization of Christianity in Europe. Thus this book demonstrates how mission history can be transformed to a research concept for a global and pluralistic Christianity. Le duplex Jean-Claude Götting, 1994 Hemingway, Fitzgerald and the Muse of Romantic Music Nicole J. Camastra, 2023-12-21 Both Ernest Hemingway and F. Scott Fitzgerald grew up in the Midwest and were strongly influenced by Romantic music anchored by the aesthetic tastes of the German immigrants who settled across that region. Hemingway's ear for form and Fitzgerald's penchant for lyricism stem from early and frequent exposure to such masters as Johannes Brahms and Franz Schubert. Nostalgia is typically associated with romanticism and the acoustic longing found in Hemingway and Fitzgerald's fiction resonates with it. Characterized in the narrative voices in Hemingway's Winner Take Nothing Fitzgerald's Tender Is the Night and other of their fiction from the early thirties. Understanding that each writer has his own kind of musical biography charts new ways to read material we already think we know. Reading their work within a musical historical context means acknowledging it as an extension of the 19th century it means reading them as Romantic Modernists. This work reads

each author's prose musically considering how Romantic music inspired their craft and distinguished their work through the pivotal juncture of the early to mid 1930s when each man faced an artistic crisis of conscience Initial chapters provide background information in music history Following chapters focus on how the life of each author was shaped by music and how they worked with specific influences that grew out of steady interactions with it evidence of which is found in archival documents and collections

The Strangest Man Graham Farmelo, 2009-08-25 Paul Dirac was among the greatest scientific geniuses of the modern age One of Einstein's most admired colleagues he helped discover quantum mechanics and his prediction of antimatter was one of the greatest triumphs in the history of physics In 1933 he became the youngest theoretician ever to win the Nobel Prize in Physics Dirac's personality like his achievements is legendary The Strangest Man uses previously undiscovered archives to reveal the many facets of Dirac's brilliantly original mind
