Fictions of America Judie Newman, 2007-12-04 The Internet has had a huge impact on channels of communication and information reaching across time and space to connect the world through globalisation In this Internet led world story links to story windows open on new stories and no overall authority establishes priority This sense of globalisation has raised many questions for contemporary American Novelists primarily the usefulness or redundancy of narrative and its potentially adaptive function What are the right stories for such a broadband world How do contemporary American novelists respond to issues such as the influence of the multinational corporation and its predecessors human rights Imperialism the literary work as a marketable commodity translation as betrayal data overload and the implosion of the virtual into the biosphere Is globalisation inevitable or is it a fiction which fiction turns into reality Fictions of America explores these questions and looks at the ways in which India China and Africa can be said to have underwritten American culture how literature has been marketed globally and how novelists have answered back to power with resistant fictions Judie Newman examines a wide range of fiction from the mid nineteenth to the twenty first century including the transnational adoption narrative short story historical novel slave narrative international bestseller and Western to illustrate her argument Looking closely at authors such as Bharati Mukherjee John Updike Emily Prager Hannah Crafts Zora Neale Hurston David Bradley Peter Heg and Cormac McCarthy Fictions of America provides a bold response to the crucial questions raised by globalisation The

Fictions of Romantic Tourism George Dekker, 2005 This book explores the interrelationships between British fiction and tourism 1745 1830 especially as these are exemplified in the novels and tours of three of the most important Romantic novelists Its author shows that the imaginative reshaping of humdrum reality characteristic of the fiction of Ann Radcliffe Mary Shelley and Sir Walter Scott was also widely practiced by tourists who shared the same liberating Romantic aesthetic

Family Fictions and Family Facts Brian Cooper, 2007-05-07 Here Brian Cooper explores the role of economic theory in normalizing the family in the first half of the nineteenth century Drawing on a wide range of sources the book examines the impacts of these different forms on contemporary debate Fin-de-Siècle Fictions, 1890s-1990s A.

Mousoutzanis, 2014-05-27 Fin de Si cle Fictions 1890s 1990s focuses on fin de si cle British and postmodern American fictions of apocalypse and investigates the ways in which these narratives demonstrate shifts in the relations among modern discourses of power and knowledge Geography and the Literary Imagination in Victorian Fictions of Empire Jean Fernandez, 2020-01-20 In this pioneering study Dr Fernandez explores how the rise of institutional geography in Victorian England impacted imperial fiction s emergence as a genre characterized by a preoccupation with space and place This volume argues that the alliance between institutional geography and the British empire which commenced with the founding of the Royal Geographical Society in 1830 shaped the spatial imagination of Victorians with profound consequences for the novel of empire Geography and the Literary Imagination in Victorian Fictions of Empire examines Presidential Addresses and reports of the Royal Geographical Society and demonstrates how geographical studies by explorers cartographers ethnologists medical topographers administrators and missionaries published by the RGS local geographical societies or the colonial state acquired relevance for Victorian fiction's response to the British Empire Through a series of illuminating readings of literary works by R L Stevenson Olive Schreiner Flora Annie Steel Winwood Reade Joseph Conrad and Rudyard Kipling the study demonstrates how nineteenth century fiction published between 1870 and 1901 reflected and interrogated geographical discourses of the time The study makes the case for the significance of physical and human geography for literary studies and the unique historical and aesthetic insights gained through this approach

The Changing Fictions of Masculinity David Rosen, 1993 In a sensitive and provocative study of six great works of British literature David Rosen traces the evolution of masculinity inviting readers to contemplate the shifting joys and sorrows men have experienced throughout the last millennium and the changing but constant tensions between their lives and ideals Focusing on Beowulf Sir Gawain and the Green Knight Hamlet Paradise Lost Hard Times and Sons and Lovers Rosen shows how the actions of heroes fail to resolve tensions between masculine ideals and male experiences

Transatlantic Fictions of 9/11 and the War on Terror Susana Araújo, 2015-10-22 Extending the study of post 9 11 literature to include transnational perspectives this book explores the ways in which contemporary writers from Europe as well as the USA have responded to the attacks on the World Trade Centre and the ensuing war on terror Transatlantic Fictions of 9 11 and the War on Terror demonstrates the ways in which contemporary fiction has wrestled with anxieties about national and international security in the 21st century Reading a wide range of novels by such writers as Amy Waldman Michael Cunningham Fredric Beigbeder Ian McEwan Joseph O'Neill Moshin Hamid Jos Saramago Ricardo Menéndez Salmán J M Coetzee and Salman Rushdie Susana Araújo explores how the rhetoric of the war on terror has shaped recent representations of the city and how security discourses circulate transatlantically and transnationally By focusing not only on 9 11 but also on the way subsequent events such as the wars in Afghanistan and in Iraq are represented in fiction this book demonstrates how notions of terror and insecurity have been absorbed reworked or critiqued in fiction Araújo examines to what extent transatlantic relations have reinforced or challenged new fictions of white western middle class captivity

The Broadview Anthology of Victorian Short Stories Dennis Denisoff, 2004-05-11 The Broadview Anthology of Victorian Short Stories beautifully demonstrates the astonishing variety and ingenuity of Victorian short stories This collection brings together works focused on a wide range of popular Victorian subjects in many different styles and forms including comic gothic fantasy adventure and colonial works science fiction children's tales New Woman writing Irish yarns stories originally published in popular periodicals and travel stories Both well known and lesser known authors are included and both men and women are well represented This anthology includes twenty six annotated stories a general introduction that discusses the history of the genre's development in relation to key socio political issues of the Victorian era and suggestions for secondary readings It also includes an intriguing selection of Victorian writings on the genre by Edgar Allan Poe Charles Dickens Margaret Oliphant Frederick Wedmore and Laura Marholm Hansson Fictions of State Patrick Brantlinger, 2019-06-30 In this ambitious book Patrick Brantlinger offers a cultural history of Great Britain focused on the concept of public credit from the 1694 founding of the Bank of England to the present He draws on literary texts ranging from Augustan satire such as Gulliver's Travels to postmodern satire such as Martin Amis's Money A Suicide Note All critique the misrecognition of public credit as wealth The economic foundations of modern nation states involved national debt public credit and paper money Brantlinger traces the emergence of modern imperial Great Britain from those foundations He analyzes the process whereby nationalism both the cause and the result of wars and imperial expansion multiplied national debt and produced crises of public credit resolved only through more nationalism and war During the first half of the eighteenth century conservatives attacked public credit as fetishistic and characterized national debt as alchemical From the 1850s the stabilizing theories of public credit authored by David Hume Adam Smith Henry Thornton and others helped initiate the first social science economics In the nineteenth century literary criticism both paralleled and questioned early capitalist discourse on public credit and nationalism while the Victorian novel refigured debt as the individual private credit and debt During the era of high modernism and Keynesian economics the notion of high culture as genuine value recast the debate over money and national indebtedness Brantlinger relates this cultural historical trajectory to Marxist poststructuralist and postcolonial theories about the decline of the European empires after World War II the global debt crisis and the weakening of western nation states in the postmodern era

Gustav Klaus, Stephen Knight, 2000 This volume represents the contexts aspirations and dramas experienced by the people who worked in industry in Britain for 200 years This fictional material was usually produced in conscious resistance to the dominant culture of the day sometimes by middle class sympathisers but often by workers themselves who found time somehow to write about their stark experiences The Fictions of American Capitalism Jacques-Henri Coste, Vincent Dussol, 2020-02-26 The Fictions of American Capitalism Working Fictions and the Economic Novel introduces a new way of thinking about fiction in connection with capitalism especially American capitalism These essays demonstrate how fiction fulfills a major function of the American capitalist engine presenting various formulations of American capitalism from the perspective of economists social scientists and literary critics Focusing on three narratives fictitious capital working fictions and the economic novel the volume questions whether these three types of fiction can be linked under the sign of capitalism This collection seeks to illustrate the American economy s dependence on fictitiousness America s ideological fictions and the nation s creative literary fiction In relation to what the credit and banking crisis of 2007 2008 exposed about the unreal base of the economy the volume concludes with a call to recognize the economic humanities arguing that American fiction and American literary studies can provide a useful mirror for economists Experimental Fictions Tullio Pagano, 1999 This volume provides the first comprehensive comparative study of two major representatives of naturalism Emile Zola and the Italian verist novelist Giovanni Verga The development of Verga s narrative from the early romantic novels to his mature verist fiction is to be understood in connection with French Naturalism and Zola in particular The author thus challenges the canonical interpretation of Verga s fiction dominant among Italian critics which sees it in antithetical opposition to Zola s Inside Science Fiction James Gunn, 2006-03-21 James Gunn has had a long and distinguished career in science fiction In addition to his stories and novels he has written extensively about the reading writing and criticism of science fiction Many of these essays were published in The Science of Science Fiction Writing Scarecrow 2002 A second collection of essays Inside Science Fiction was originally published in 1992 and is now available in this revised updated and expanded edition With the addition of five new articles written since 1992 Inside Science Fiction represents Gunn s latest thoughts about the genre The book is divided into four major sections that tackle various aspects of the genre Getting Inside Science Fiction in which Gunn discusses his relationship with the genre Science Fiction and the Teacher illustrates various approaches to teaching science fiction Science Fiction on Film and Television deals with the film industry s approaches to science fiction in particular Gunn s experiences of seeing his novel The Immortals turned into a made for television movie and subsequent series Science Fiction and the Real World examines the impact of science fiction on the world and what the future holds for the genre Inside Science Fiction offers a complete overview of science fiction for readers and viewers from an author reader and teacher who has seen it from all sides for more than seventy years Aggressive Fictions Kathryn Hume,2012-01-15 A frequent complaint against contemporary American fiction is that too often it puts off readers in ways they find difficult to fathom Books such as Bret Easton Ellis s American Psycho Katherine Dunn s Geek Love and Don DeLillo s Underworld seem determined to upset disgust or annoy their readers or to disorient them by shunning traditional plot patterns and character development Kathryn Hume calls such works aggressive fiction Why would authors risk alienating their readers and why should readers persevere Looking beyond the theory based justifications that critics often provide for such fiction Hume offers a commonsense guide for the average reader who wants to better understand and appreciate books that might otherwise seem difficult to enjoy In her reliable and sympathetic guide Hume considers roughly forty works of recent American fiction including books by William Burroughs Kathy Acker Chuck Palahniuk and Cormac McCarthy Hume gathers attacks on the reader into categories based on narrative structure and content Writers of some aggressive fictions may wish to frustrate easy interpretation or criticism Others may try to induce certain responses in readers Extreme content deployed as a tactic for distancing and alienating can actually produce a contradictory effect for readers who learn to relax and go with the flow the result may well be exhilaration rather than revulsion Abolishing Boundaries Peter Zarrow,2021-01-01 Honorable Mention 2022 Sharon Harris Book Award presented by the University of Connecticut Humanities Institute Focusing on four key Chinese intellectuals of the first half of the twentieth century Abolishing Boundaries offers new perspectives on modern Chinese political thought These four intellectuals Kang Youwei Cai Yuanpei Chen Duxiu and Hu Shi were deeply familiar with the Confucian and Buddhist classical texts while also interested in the West s utopian literature of the late nineteenth century as well as Kant and the neo Kantians Marxists and John Dewey and new liberalism respectively Although none of these four intellectuals can simply be labeled utopian thinkers this book highlights how their thinking was intertwined with utopian ideals to produce theories of secular transcendence liberalism and communism and how in explicit and implicit ways their ideas required some utopian impulse in order to escape the boundaries they identified as imprisoning the Chinese people and all humanity To abolish these boundaries was to imagine alternatives to the unbearable present This was not a matter of armchair philosophizing but of thinking through new ways to commit to action These men did not hold a totalistic picture of some perfect society but in distinctly different ways they all displayed a utopian impulse that fueled radical visions of change Their work reveals much about the underlying forces shaping modern thought in China and the world Reacting to China s problems they sought a better future for all humanity Innovation, Between Science and Science Fiction Thomas Michaud,2017-07-06 Fantasy and science fiction are both involved in the process of innovation in techno scientific societies Long regarded as a hindrance to rationality and to science science fiction has become the object of praise in recent decades

Innovative organizations use science fiction to stimulate the creativity of their teams and more and more entrepreneurs are using its influence to develop innovation. Scientific practice relies in part on an imaginary dimension. The mapping of the technical imagination of science fiction has become an important strategic issue as has its patentability. The conquest of space, the construction of cyberspace and virtual reality, biotechnologies and nanotechnologies are all at the center of futuristic fictions that participate in scientific speeches and discoveries. Economic Science Fictions William

Davies, 2018-05-11. An innovative new anthology exploring how science fiction can motivate new approaches to economics. From the libertarian economics of Ayn Rand to Aldous Huxley's consumerist dystopias, economics and science fiction have often orbited each other. In Economic Science Fictions, editor William Davies has deliberately merged the two worlds, asking how we might harness the power of the utopian imagination to revitalize economic thinking. Rooted in the sense that our current economic reality is no longer credible or viable, this collection treats our economy as a series of fictions and science fiction as a means of anticipating different economic futures. It asks how science fiction can motivate new approaches to economics and provides surprising new syntheses merging social science with fiction, design with politics, scholarship with experimental forms. With an opening chapter from Ha Joon Chang as well as theory, short stories and reflections on design, this book from Goldsmiths Press challenges and changes the notion that economics and science fiction are worlds apart. The result is a wealth of fresh and unusual perspectives for anyone who believes the economy is too important to be left solely to economists. H. G. WELLS Ultimate Collection: 120+ Science Fiction Classics, Novels & Stories; Including Scientific, Political and Historical Works H. G. Wells, 2024-01-14. The H G WELLS Ultimate Collection is an extensive anthology that encapsulates over 120 of Wells' seminal works, ranging from his innovative science fiction narratives to incisive political and historical treatises. Characterized by a narrative style that deftly marries imaginative storytelling with sharp social commentary, this collection showcases Wells' pioneering approach to merging genre fiction with pressing contemporary issues. His prescient visions of technology, society and human nature not only reflect the anxieties of the Victorian and Edwardian eras but also establish Wells as a precursor to modern speculative fiction. H G Wells, often heralded as the father of science fiction, was profoundly influenced by the scientific advancements and social upheavals of his time. Born in 1866, Wells' diverse career spanned writing journalism and socialism, informing his narrative voice and thematic choices. His experiences, such as his education in biology and fascination with the future, led to a profound exploration of the implications of technology and human behavior, positioning him as a critical thinker in a rapidly changing world. This anthology is an essential read for enthusiasts of science fiction, historians, and anyone interested in the intersection of science and society. By immersing themselves in this ultimate collection, readers will gain invaluable insights

English Fictions of Communal Identity, 1485-1603 Joshua Phillips, 2016-05-13 Challenging a long standing trend that sees the Renaissance as the end of communal identity and constitutive group affiliation author Joshua Phillips explores the perseverance of such affiliation throughout Tudor culture Focusing on prose fiction from Malory s Morte Darthur through the works of Sir Philip Sidney and Thomas Nashe this study explores the concept of collective agency and the extensive impact it had on English Renaissance culture In contrast to studies devoted to the myth of early modern individuation English Fictions of Communal Identity 1485 1603 pays special attention to primary communities monastic orders printing house concerns literary circles and neighborhoods that continued to generate a collective sense of identity Ultimately Phillips offers a new way of theorizing the relation between collaboration and identity In terms of literary history this study elucidates a significant aspect of novelistic discourse even as it accounts for the institutional disregard of often brilliant works of early modern fiction
