

ENDOCRINE SYSTEM

Endocrine System: WORKING TOGETHER

Each organ system works on other systems within the body to do its "job". Our bodies learn just some of the ways that the endocrine system interacts with other organ systems.

Nervous System

Circulatory System

Endocrine System: FACTS

Endocrine System: PROBLEMS

Most of the time, the endocrine system works perfectly well. However, sometimes problems can arise.

Diabetes

Diabetes is a condition that causes high blood glucose (sugar) levels. It is caused by the body being unable to either produce or use the hormone insulin. So, the glucose (sugar) gets stuck in the blood. Symptoms include increased thirst, weight gain, changes in vision, frequent urination, slow wound healing, mood swings, and changes in weight. Diabetes can lead to complications such as heart disease, kidney failure, and blindness.

Endocrine System: KEY TERMS

| Term             | Definition                                                                            |
|------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Endocrine System | Network of endocrine glands that make, store, and release hormones.                   |
| Hormones         | Chemical messengers that carry information and instructions from one cell to another. |

Endocrine System: HORMONES

Hormones are chemical signals. Hormones are released by a gland into the bloodstream. They travel through the bloodstream and bind to target cells. This causes the target cells to perform a specific function. Hormones can be made by the endocrine system or by other parts of the body.

Endocrine System: FIGHT-OR-FLIGHT

The fight-or-flight response is a reaction that occurs in the body when we are really frightened. The brain (specifically the hypothalamus) tells our adrenal glands to release the hormone adrenaline. Adrenaline makes our heart beat faster, our breathing faster, and our muscles tense up. This helps us to react quickly to a dangerous situation. In other words, the body's response to stress prepares us to react to the danger.

Endocrine System: GLANDS

A gland is a structure that produces and releases substances that perform a specific function in the body. There are two types of glands: endocrine glands and exocrine glands. Endocrine glands release hormones into the bloodstream. Exocrine glands release substances into a duct that leads out of the body. Some glands, like the pancreas, have both endocrine and exocrine functions.

Endocrine System: FEEDBACK LOOPS

Endocrine activities are regulated by complex feedback loops. These feedback loops help the body maintain a balance. When a hormone level is too high or too low, the body sends a signal to the glands to release more or less of that hormone. This signal is called a feedback loop. The feedback loop helps the body return to its normal state.
