Experiences From The Light:

Light as Experience and Imagination from Medieval to Modern Times David S. Herrstrom, 2022-11-21 In Light as Experience and Imagination from Medieval to Modern Times David S. Herrstrom synthesizes and interprets the experience of light as revealed in a wide range of art and literature from medieval to modern times. The true subject of the book is making sense of the individual's relationship with light rather than the investigation of light's essential nature while telling the story of light seducing individuals from the Middle Ages to our modern times. Consequently it is not concerned with the progress of scientific inquiries into the physical properties and behavior of light optical science but rather with subjective reactions as reflected in art architecture and literature. Instead of its evolution this book celebrates the complexity of our relation to light's character. No individual experience of light being truer than any other. Light as Experience and Imagination from Paleolithic to Roman Times David S. Herrstrom, 2017-09-26 This book is an interdisciplinary synthesis and interpretation about the experience of light as revealed in a wide range of art and literature from Paleolithic to Roman times. Humanistic in spirit and in its handling of facts it marshals a substantial body of scholarship to develop an explication of light as a central even dramatic reality of human existence and experience in diverse cultural settings. David S. Herrstrom underscores our intimacy with light not only its constant presence in our life but its insinuating character. Focusing on our encounters with light and ways of making sense of these this book is concerned with the personal and cultural impact of light exploring our resistance to and acceptance of light. Its approach is unique. The book's true subject is the individual's relationship with light rather than the investigation of light's essential nature. It tells the story of light seducing individuals down through the ages. Consequently it is not concerned with the progress of scientific inquiries into the physical properties and behavior of light optical science but rather with subjective reactions to it as reflected in art Paleolithic through Roman architecture Egyptian Grecian Roman mythology and religion Paleolithic Egyptian and literature e.g. Akhenaten Plato Aeschylus Lucretius John the Evangelist Plotinus and Augustine. This book celebrates the complexity of our relation to light's character. No individual experience of light is truer than any other none improves on any previous experience of light's tidal pull on us. And the wondrous variety of these encounters has yielded a richly layered tapestry of human experience. By its broad scope and interdisciplinary approach this pioneering book is without precedent. In the Light of Experience Johan Gersel, Rasmus Thybo Jensen, Morten S. Thanning, Søren Overgaard, 2018-05-31 How does the idea that perception must provide reasons for our empirical judgements constrain our conception of our perceptual experiences? This volume presents ten new essays on perception which in different ways address this fundamental question. Charles Travis and John McDowell debate whether we need to ascribe content to experience in order to understand how it can provide the subject with reasons. Other essays address issues such as the following: What exactly is the Myth of the Given and why should it be worthwhile to try to avoid it? What constitutes our experiential reasons? Is it experiences themselves the objects of experiences or facts about our experiences Should we conceive of experiential reasons as conclusive reasons How should we conceive of the fallibility of our perceptual capacities if we think of experiences as capable of providing conclusive reasons How should we conceive of the objects of experience The contributors offer a variety of views on the reason giving potential of experience engaging explicitly and critically with each other's work Light-weight Experience Collection in Distributed Software Engineering Anna Averbakh, 2015 Nowadays distributed software development has become more common In a distributed project setting managing experience is even more crucial than in a co located project Problems like ineffective communication lack of awareness and trust and restrictive information flow policies impede experience exchange and raise the overall effort for software engineers to collaborate Moreover sharing experiences is usually not part of the development process and considered additional effort This often leads to failure of the experience management initiative due to a lack of participation This thesis proposes a framework for qualitative and quantitative assessment of light weight experience collection Light weight methods primarily aim at lowering the perceived effort and return a reasonable benefit to the experience bearers This thesis proposes characterizing criteria of light weight experience collection and a measurement system to measure gradations of expected effort and benefit of an experience collection method To support knowledge managers in choosing the appropriate collection method this thesis provides a catalogue of strategies from different categories and areas of application in distributed development projects Light on the Path to Spiritual Perfection - Additional Articles III Ray del

Mystical Luminosity Experience Jonathan Dinsmore, 2024-07-01 Light of a divine or transcendent nature is widely revered in various religious and mystical traditions around the world and luminosity with mystical qualities such as love bliss peace and noetic realization is also frequently reported by contemporary experiencers Despite being described as a profoundly significant sacred and transformative experience mystical luminosity has received relatively little attention in modern scholarship and scientific study and has only been examined empirically within isolated contexts such as NDEs or contemplative practices This study examines the phenomenology which binds mystical luminosity across various experiential contexts to construct a phenomenologically grounded theoretical model A three part mixed methods investigation using a new mystical luminosity experience scale based on this model is then summarized with findings generally supporting and further clarifying the model Hafed, prince of Persia: his experiences, being spirit communications received

Hagia Sophia and the Byzantine Aesthetic Experience Dr Nadine Schibille,2014-11-28 Paramount in the shaping of early Byzantine identity was the construction of the church of Hagia Sophia in Constantinople 532 537 CE This book examines the edifice from the perspective of aesthetics to define the concept of beauty and the meaning of art in early Byzantium Byzantine aesthetic thought is re evaluated against late antique Neoplatonism and the writings of Pseudo Dionysius that offer fundamental paradigms for the late antique attitude towards art and beauty These metaphysical concepts of aesthetics are ultimately grounded in experiences of sensation and perception and reflect the ways in which the world and reality were perceived and grasped signifying the cultural identity of early Byzantium There are different types of aesthetic data those present in the aesthetic object and those found in aesthetic responses to the object This study looks at the aesthetic data embodied in the sixth century architectural structure and interior decoration of Hagia Sophia as well as in literary responses ekphrasis to the building The purpose of the Byzantine ekphrasis was to convey by verbal means the same effects that the artefact itself would have caused A literary analysis of these rhetorical descriptions recaptures the Byzantine perception and expectations and at the same time reveals the cognitive processes triggered by the Great Church The central aesthetic feature that emerges from sixth century ekphraseis of Hagia Sophia is that of light Light is described as the decisive element in the experience of the sacred space and light is simultaneously associated with the notion of wisdom It is argued that the concepts of light and wisdom are interwoven programmatic elements that underlie the unique architecture and non figurative decoration of Hagia Sophia A similar concern for the phenomenon of light and its epistemological dimension is reflected in other contemporary monuments testifying to the pervasiveness of these aesthetic values in early Byzantium survey delving into the deeper philosophical and psychological implications of this pervasive motif The writing style is academic yet accessible aiming to engage both scholars and general readers interested in religion philosophy and spirituality The tone is informative and respectful acknowledging the diversity of beliefs while seeking to identify common underlying themes The target audience includes students of religion and philosophy spiritual seekers and anyone interested in exploring the shared symbolism that underlies different cultural and religious traditions As a work of comparative religion and philosophy the book adheres to the conventions of scholarly rigor providing clear citations and engaging with existing scholarship in the field The book s scope is broad encompassing a wide range of religious and philosophical traditions However it is intentionally limited to the motif of light allowing for a more in depth analysis of this specific symbol The insights from Eternal Light can be applied to enhance interfaith dialogue promote greater understanding between different cultural perspectives and deepen individual spiritual practice through contemplation of the symbolism of light While the consensus across religions often affirms light as positive debates exist regarding its interpretation Some emphasize light as purely transcendent and separate from the material world while others understand it as immanent and accessible through sensory experience This book explores these varying interpretations
