Exploring Language GOSHGARIAN, 2001-11-01      Performance on Behalf of the Environment Richard D. Besel, Jnan A. Blau, 2013-11-26 Human degradation of the environment has been documented by scholars across a range of disciplines the global temperature of the planet continues to rise abandoned industrial sites stain once vibrant communities and questions about the purity of our water and foods linger In the shadow of these material conditions concerned citizens have reacted by issuing critiques against careless consumerism and excessive lifestyles Their hope is to illustrate and inspire alternative ways of living As part of such efforts and activism some have turned to performance as a means to investigate matters further pose challenges and questions and enact new ways of being and thinking in a globalized world Performance on Behalf of the Environment is a collection of essays from a diverse group of scholars that explore critically the strengths limitations and processes of what can be termed environmental performances      Anita Whitney, Louis Brandeis, and the First Amendment

Haig A. Bosmajian, 2010      Metaphor and Reason in Judicial Opinions Haig A. Bosmajian, 1992 While much has been written on the use of metaphor in literature and religion science and philosophy few articles and no books have discussed its function in legal opinions To the public judges handing down judicial decisions present arguments derived through rational discourse and literal language Yet as Judge Richard Posner has pointed out rhetorical power counts for a lot in law Science not to mention everyday thought is influenced by metaphors Why shouldn t law be Haig Bosmajian examines the crucial role of the trope metaphors personifications metonymies in argumentation and reveals the surprisingly important place that figurative nonliteral language holds in judicial decision making Focusing on the specific genre of the legal opinion Professor Bosmajian discusses the question of why we have judicial opinions at all and the importance of style in them He then looks at specific well known figures of speech such as the wall of separation between church and state justice personified as a female or the Constitution as color blind explaining why they are not straight forward statements of legal fact but examples of the ways tropes are used in legal language      More Verbal Self-Defense Suzette Haden Elgin, 1991-06 Continues The gentle art of verbal self defense 1980

Technology and English Studies James A. Inman, Beth L. Hewett, 2020-07-24 In scholarship about technology and English studies there are a number of first person narratives that suggest what may be termed traditional professional paths That is they chronicle the positive influence of a particular technology class professor or publication and suggest that it inspired a distinct and rewarding professional path What is missing is the rest of the story alternate ways that individuals have come to do work in technology and English studies and analysis of what this means for paths others might pursue Technology and English Studies Innovative Professional Paths meets this need The volume begins with definitions of its three central terms technology English Studies and professional paths Chapters are organized in four sections reflecting both a chronological progression and thematic professional development The Past as the Future Searching the Academy Pushing Boundaries and Forging Beyond As a forerunner in addressing professionalization across the domains that comprise technology and English studies it will prove foundational for many readers with non traditional or otherwise alternate backgrounds who are working out what professional paths might be available to them Technology and English Studies Innovative Professional Paths is an important professional development resource for professors instructors and graduate students across the field of English studies including rhetoric and composition computers and writing computer assisted language learning literary and linguistic computing literary studies English education technical communication linguistics writing centers second language education ESL and creative writing
