Paper 9011/01

Prophets of the Old Testament

General comments

Time management was generally good, and most candidates answered four good questions. Some candidates spent too little time on Question 10, and lost many marks by writing too little.

Comments on individual questions

Question 1

Consider the claim that the prophets always based their messages on those who went before them.

The weakest responses to this question simply said that each prophet was unique, and then said why, without answering the question. The best responses tended to focus on the continuity of issues like covenant theology stemming from Moses, whilst also pointing out that each prophet addressed issues not found elsewhere: for example Jeremiah rejected Zionism in favour of his ideas about a new covenant.

Question 2

"The origins of Israelite prophecy can never be known." Discuss.

This was a very popular question. Weaker responses tended simply to list theories, without really knowing what those theories said. Most candidates were aware of T, the suggestions that prophecy originated elsewhere in the ancient world, for example in Egypt or Babylonia. Most were aware also of the suggestion that Israelite prophecy was borrowed from the Canaanites as the indigenous culture. The favoured opinion was that prophecy originated with Moses, and perhaps with Abraham before him, as a response to the unique demands of Yahweh. Most candidates did well on this question.

Question 3

Assess the view that Samuel and Elijah were ideal prophets rather than real prophets.

Most candidates took this to mean that Samuel and Elijah were real prophets as opposed to imaginary ones. The meaning of "ideal" here was really that later editors painted a picture of Samuel and Elijah that "idealized" them, making them larger than life i.e. the best kind of prophet that there could be. However, the Examiners accepted the understanding of "ideal" as "invented". Candidates displayed a very thorough knowledge of the role of both Samuel and Elijah. Some candidates had some very interesting ideas as to why Samuel and Elijah might have been ideal in the sense of "not perfect": for example some said that Saul's summoning of the spirit of Samuel suggested that Samuel was less than perfect, because he allowed himself to be used for divination and witchcraft. Elijah was told off for being "only" a henotheist and not a monotheist.

Question 4

"False prophets were more successful than true ones." Discuss.

Weaker responses often just listed the differences between true prophets and false prophets, without answering the question. Almost all candidates made a reasonable job of this question, and there were some interesting comments. Many said that the false prophets who opposed Elijah did not have much luck, since they all died, which was not very successful! One of the most interesting comments was from the candidates who said that false prophets were obviously more successful, otherwise there would have been no need for true ones.
