stalled the rest of the building, a "circuit breaker" to stop the fire from spreading. The previous failure to build the sprinkler system had been a "human error," says a spokesman for the city. The city is now working on a plan to build a new sprinkler system for the building, but it is not clear when that will be completed.

There is still a long way to go. The authors would appreciate comments and suggestions from the members of the International Association of Agricultural Economists.
