geographical or spatial concepts can be used critically to understand migration The multi disciplinary text draws on insights from human geography political science social anthropology sociology and to a lesser extent economics All of the chapters focus on key terms theories concepts and issues concerning migration and immigration The book argues that in the context of migration two opposing spatial positions have emerged in the wake of the critique of methodological nationalism On one hand is the significance of transnationalism and on the other the importance of sub national or local processes Both require more nuance and integration while many of the concepts and theories which have thus far neglected space or have not been treated spatially need to be re written with space in mind Pedagogically the text combines a carefully defined structure accessible language boxes that explore case studies of migrant related experiences in particular places annotated suggestions for further reading useful websites and relevant films and summary questions for student learning at the end of each chapter Migration provides a critical multi disciplinary advanced and theoretically informed introduction to migration and immigration Revised and updated with new material new maps and illustrations and an accompanying website <https://migration2ndedition.wordpress.com> it continues to be aimed at advanced undergraduates and Masters level graduate students undertaking courses on migration and immigration
