Abstract

These three influences are thought to be the most important factors that affect a country's economic growth. The first factor is the country's natural resources, which include land, labor, and capital. The second factor is the country's human capital, which includes the education and skills of the workforce. The third factor is the country's technology, which includes the knowledge and innovation that drive economic growth. These three factors are often referred to as the "three pillars" of economic growth.

Finance for Housing Cathy Davis, 2013-07-17 The global financial crisis of 2007 08 was triggered by sub prime mortgage mis selling in the US and the global sale of these debts as new bonds Austerity programmes are designed to reduce the borrowing that governments undertook to stabilise failing banking systems but the UK s Coalition government is using austerity as a cover to dismantle the welfare state Housing is at the forefront of these changes Mortgages and rental costs are rising as the market dictates them while people with low incomes now receive substantially less financial help from the welfare state In this much needed text by an experienced author with a policy background current housing finance issues and their history are linked with broader social policy and political themes It covers the finance of building and refurbishment managing and maintaining property for all the different tenures owner occupation council housing housing association and private renting and discusses whether current arrangements are sustainable Written for housing social policy and politics students and staff it is also accessible to anyone concerned about housing in Britain today

Principles of Financial Regulation John Armour, Dan Awrey, Paul Davies, Luca Enriques, Jeffrey N. Gordon, Colin Mayer, Jennifer Payne, 2016-08-04 The financial crisis of 2007 9 revealed serious failings in the regulation of financial institutions and markets and prompted a fundamental reconsideration of the design of financial regulation As the financial system has become ever more complex and interconnected the pace of evolution continues to accelerate It is now clear that regulation must focus on the financial system as a whole but this poses significant challenges for regulators Principles of Financial Regulation describes how to address those challenges Examining the subject from a holistic and multidisciplinary perspective Principles of Financial Regulation considers the underlying policies and the objectives of regulation by drawing on economics finance and law methodologies The volume examines regulation in a purposive and dynamic way by framing the book in terms of what the financial system does rather than what financial regulation is By analysing specific regulatory measures the book provides readers to the opportunity to assess regulatory choices on specific policy issues and encourages critical reflection on the design of regulation

The Politics of Consumer Credit in the UK, 1938-1992 Stuart Aveyard, Paul Corthorn, Sean O'Connell, 2018-08-30 As early as the 1930s Britain had a highly innovative and profitable mortgage sector that promoted a major extension in home ownership These controversial and risky offerings had an equivalent in numerous hire purchase agreements with which new homes were furnished Such developments were forerunners of the easy credit regime more commonly associated with the 1980s Taking a long term perspective on this issue indicates that Britain s departure from European models of consumer credit markets was not simply a by product of neoliberalism's influence on the Thatcher administration and this book offers a much fuller explanation to the phenomenon. It explores debates within and between the major political parties, reveals the infighting amongst civil service departments over management of consumer demand, charts the varying degrees of influence wielded by the Bank of England and finance capital as opposed to that of consumer durable manufacturers, reviews the perspectives of consumers and their representatives and explains the role of contingency and path dependency in these historical events. The central focus of this book is on consumer credit but this subject provides a case study through which to explore numerous other important areas of British history. These include debates on the issues of post war consensus, the impact of rising home ownership and its impact on consumer credit and personal finance markets, the management of consumer society, political responses to affluence, the development of consumer protection policy and the influence of neoliberalism.
