Churella, 2023-11-21 By 1933 the Pennsylvania Railroad had been in existence for nearly ninety years During this time it had grown from a small line struggling to build west from the state capital in Harrisburg to the dominant transportation company in the United States In Volume 2 of The Pennsylvania Railroad Albert J Churella continues his history of this giant of American transportation At the beginning of the twentieth century the Pennsylvania Railroad was the world's largest business corporation and the nation's most important railroad By 1917 the Pennsylvania Railroad like the nation itself was confronting a very different world The war that had consumed Europe since 1914 was about to engulf the United States Amid unprecedented demand for transportation the federal government undertook the management of the railroads while new labor policies and new regulatory initiatives coupled with a postwar recession would challenge the company like never before Only time would tell whether the years that followed would signal a new beginning for the Pennsylvania Railroad or the beginning of the end The Pennsylvania Railroad The Age of Limits 1917 1933 represents an unparalleled look at the history the personalities and the technologies of this iconic American company in a period that marked the shift from building an empire to exploring the limits of their power AR 600-20 11/06/2014 ARMY COMMAND POLICY , Survival Ebooks

Discrimination based on Colour, Ethnic Origin, Language, Religion and Belief in Turkey's Education System Nurcan Kaya,2015-10-27 The Turkish government is urged to make a fundamental shift in its approach to education by Minority Rights Group International MRG in a new report. A long standing focus on state building has been supplemented by increasing emphasis on religious teaching. Both feature strongly in the education system in Turkey making schools a focus of discrimination. The report 'Discrimination based on Colour Ethnic Origin Language Religion and Belief in Turkey's Education System' reveals evidence of discrimination of minority groups and suggests comprehensive reforms to effectively ensure equality. The national education system which for decades aimed to create young Turkish nationalists has in recent years become a vehicle for raising young religious Turkish nationalists, says Nurcan Kaya, Turkey Coordinator of Minority Rights Group International. Religious education is compulsory from grade four in primary schools. While some information on world religions has been introduced, the emphasis remains on teaching Sunni Muslim religious practices. Children of Jewish and Christian families may apply to opt out, but the process can be cumbersome and in many schools alternatives are not provided for them. Non-Muslim students who have opted out can still find themselves having to remain in the religious instruction class or alternatively having to wander in the school corridor making them vulnerable to taunts from pupils and even teachers. The opt out possibility is still not available to children of other minorities. Another issue is mother tongue education. In 2012 a new elective on the living languages and dialects in Turkey was introduced but due to various limitations minorities remain marginalised. Others in the education system. Subsequent to the 2012 reform, the report monitors discrimination in the formal education system in the period of the academic year of 2014-2015. The findings are based on the field work of the Monitoring Discrimination in Education Network, an alliance of 16 organizations working in Turkey. The report compiles numerous cases of discrimination based on language, religion, ethnicity, skin colour and the level of income. In order to bring about a fundamental solution to these problems in the education system, the government must prioritise developing an approach that sees all groups as equal and that responds to demands for rights based on such an understanding of equality, says Kaya. The report highlights that Turkey has no anti-discrimination law or an equality commission to which victims of discrimination can apply. The existing legislation contains no effective and accessible means of judicial remedies or compensation. Therefore many discriminatory practices are not reported to school administrations. The entire education system is based on Turkishness. Non-Turkish groups are either not referred to or referred in a negative way, says Kaya. Education system has played a significant role in deepening conflict in society. The positive representation of other groups in the education system would contribute to social peace and harmony. In order to resolve the many problems in the education system, the current approach causes the overall aim of government education policy should be cleared of ideological references and the protection of children's best interests and the right to education in line with international standards should be considered its fundamental goal, says the report.

Breaking Point
Rebecca Schwartz Greene, 2023-01-03 WINNER SOCIETY FOR MILITARY HISTORY DISTINGUISHED BOOK AWARDS FIRST BOOK
This book informs the public for the first time about the impact of American psychiatry on soldiers during World War II.

Breaking Point is the first in depth history of American psychiatry in World War II Drawn from unpublished primary documents oral histories and the author s personal interviews and correspondence over years with key psychiatric and military policymakers it begins with Franklin Roosevelt s endorsement of a universal Selective Service psychiatric examination followed by Army and Navy pre and post induction examinations Ultimately 2 5 million men and women were rejected or discharged from military service on neuropsychiatric grounds Never before or since has the United States engaged in such a program In designing Selective Service Medical Circular No 1 psychiatrist Harry Stack Sullivan assumed psychiatrists could predict who might break down or falter in military service or even in civilian life thereafter While many American and European psychiatrists questioned this belief and huge numbers of American psychiatric casualties soon raised questions about screening s validity psychiatric and military leaders persisted in 1942 and 1943 in endorsing ever tougher screening and little else Soon families complained of fathers and teens being drafted instead of being identified as psychiatric 4Fs and Blacks and Native Americans among others complained of bias A frustrated General George S Patton famously slapped two malingering neuropsychiatric patients in Sicily a sentiment shared by Marshall and Eisenhower though they favored a tamer style Yet psychiatric rejections evacuations and discharges mounted While psychiatrist Roy Grinker and a few others treated soldiers close to the front in Tunisia in early 1943 this was the exception But as demand for manpower soared and psychiatrists finally went to the field and saw that combat itself not predisposition precipitated breakdown leading military psychiatrists switched their emphasis from screening to prevention and treatment But this switch was too little too late and slowed by a year long series of Inspector General investigations even while numbers of psychiatric casualties soared Ironically despite and even partly because of psychiatrists wartime performance plus the emotional toll of war postwar America soon witnessed a dramatic growth in numbers popularity and influence of the profession culminating in the National Mental Health Act 1946 But veterans with PTSD not recognized until 1980 were largely neglected
