Twenty three years of joint endeavors and extensive field collecting of the narratives referred to in the present volume have resulted in the availability of a multimedia archive of Philippine epics ballads and rituals both at the Pardo de Tavera collection of the Rizal Library Ateneo de Manila University and online. The linguists, anthropologists and ethno musicologists who have contributed to this book have long been conscious of the close links between Intangible Heritage and Tangible Heritage. In the Philippines, sung narratives have been recorded in situ through both audio and audio video media, transcribed, translated, digitized and analyzed by scholars and knowledgeable persons from fifteen cultural communities in the islands of Luzon, Panay, Palawan, Mindanao, Sulu and Tawi Tawi. Meanwhile, other scholars have dedicated their lifelong research to the Mergui Archipelago, central Sulawesi, southwest Maluku and East Timor. Emerging from international collaboration, the scholarship provided here seeks not only to safeguard and comprehend the uniqueness and evolving beauty of ancient sung narratives that are currently performed in the islands of Southeast Asia, but also to defend their vitality in today's changing world. This collection of twelve essays is the most recent achievement of ongoing studies of performances by singers of tales and ritualists in contemporary socio-cultural contexts by means of pioneering initiatives in the Digital Humanities, multiple analytical approaches and expert use of our growing technical capacity to safeguard and explore Intangible Heritage.

Uncultural Behavior Charles J-H Macdonald, 2006-10-31

Until recently, the people of Kulbi, Kenipaqan, lived on the fringes of the modern world, following traditional customs and beliefs, practicing shifting agriculture and leading an outwardly peaceful existence in a remote corner of Palawan island. Yet this small community, basically indistinguishable in society and culture from its immediate neighbors to the north, has one of the highest rates of suicide in the world. Why would the comparatively happy and well-off inhabitants of Kulbi fall victim to despair? Uncultural Behavior investigates the mystery of self-inflicted death among this nonviolent and orderly people in the Southern Philippines. To make sense of such a phenomenon, Charles Macdonald probes the beliefs, customs and general disposition of this Palawan people, exploring how they live, think, behave and relate to one another. Early chapters examine group formation and the spatialization of social ties, material culture, marriage and law, providing an extensive ethnographic account of the Kulbi way of life. The author offers insights into the spiritual world of the community and addresses the local theory of emotions and the words that supply the vocabulary and idiom of indigenous commentaries on suicide. A well-documented case study of a suicide and its aftermath gives readers an idea of how Kulbi people treat suicide and their conflicting views on the subject. Following an analysis of statistical information, the author presents five profiles bringing together motivations actors and circumstances He concludes by examining the perspectives of neurobiology and genetics as well as psychology sociology and history Nouvelles archives du Muséum d'histoire naturelle ,1871 Bulletin des nouvelles archives du museum separately paged included in v 1 10 2d ser v 6 3d ser v 3 4 6 10 4th ser v 2 6 8 5th ser v 1 2 5 the later bulletins are chiefly biographies and bibliographies of professors of the museum
