Les Ignames Au Cameroun:

Les ignames au Cameroun Roland Dumont, Perla Hamon, Christian Seignobos, 1994-04 La prospection des espèces sauvages cultivées d'igname Dioscorea au Cameroun révèle que certaines d'entre elles n'ont jamais été signalées jusqu'alors Les ignames du complexe D. cayenensis rotundata apparaissent très nombreuses et ont pu être classées grâce des analyses enzymatiques et morphologiques La diversité des formes sauvages exploitables en culture et les différentes pressions de sélection seraient l'origine de la variabilité de ce complexe La situation agricole et économique de l'igname au Cameroun et le choix des espèces selon le contexte local constituent l'autre volet de cette étude Panorama sur l'igname Roland Dumont, Annie Marti, 1997 Biodiversity and Domestication of Yams in West Africa Roland Dumont, 2006-07-17 A study of yam domestication practices among smallholders has provided an insight into how farmers exploit wild plant genetic resources so as to adapt them to agriculture This book describes the domestication operations leading to Dioscorea rotundata yams in Africa The biodiversity of these yams and of their wild relatives is investigated and the authors put forward hypotheses to explain the phenotypic changes resulting from smallholder practices These hypotheses could be possible lines of research for breeders Les variétés d'igname cultivées: Savoirfaire paysan au Bénin Alexandre Dansi, 2003

Propriétés physico-chimiques et fonctionnelles des tubercules et des amidons d'igname (Dioscorea) Alexis Sahore, 2011-06-10 Plus de 600 espèces d'igname Dioscorea poussent spontanément et sont réparties sur tous les continents Une dizaine seulement de ces espèces d'igname a été domestiquée et a donné de nombreux cultivars Les tubercules des huit espèces d'igname spontanées couramment rencontrées dans la forêt ivoirienne ont été collectés et leurs amidons ont été extraits Quelle est leur caractérisation physicochimique et fonctionnelle Ouvrant la voie une analyse approfondie de toxicité et des méthodes de détoxication de ces ignames pour préciser leur contribution éventuelle sur le plan alimentaire Alexis Sahor Drogba signe l'étude la plus poussée des propriétés physicochimiques et fonctionnelles de ces tubercules encore méconnus par la science agroalimentaire Tropical Plant Breeding Andre Charrier, 2001-01-03 The book reviews recent advances in tropical plant breeding Each of the twenty four chapters describes a specific crop which has been written by scientists working in the field of plant breeding and genetic improvement of that particular species The book will be a useful reference work for professional plant breeders as well as researchers Human Ecology Daniel G. Bates, Judith Tucker, 2010-03-29 This book arose from the need to develop accessible research based case study material which addresses contemporary issues and problems in the rapidly evolving field of human ecology Academic political and indeed public interest in the environmental sciences is on the rise This is no doubt spurred by media coverage of climate change and global warming and attendant natural disasters such as unusual drought and flood conditions toxic dust storms pollution of air and water and the like But there is also a growing intellectual awareness of the social causes of anthropogenic environmental impacts political vectors in determining conservation outcomes and the role of local representations of ecological knowledge in resource management and sustainable yield production This is reflected in the rapid increase of ecology courses being taught at leading universities in the fast growing developing countries much as was the case a decade or two ago in Europe and North America The research presented here is all taken from recent issues of Human Ecology An Interdisciplinary Journal Since the journal itself is a leading forum for contemporary research the articles we have selected represent a cross section of work which brings the perspectives of human ecology to bear on current problems being faced around the world The chapters are organized in such a way to facilitate the use of this volume either to teach a course or to introduce an informed reader to the field

Biotechnology of Food Crops in Developing Countries T. Hohn, K.M.

Leisinger, 2012-12-06 Recent advances in gene technology plant transformation and the growing knowledge of DNA sequences of plants as well as of their most important parasites and symbionts offer many interesting prospects for the breeding of new crop varieties This was not only recognized by the major seed companies but also by the governments of developing countries and by worldwide foundations supporting their agriculture The know how gained by the seed companies on crops important for the agricultural industry in developed countries could easily be provided for free to the international and national organizations dedicated to development of crops important in the third world Results obtained worldwide become easily available to everybody through the scientific literature Likewise agricultural research in e.g. the USA or Europe profits from the natural plant gene pool available in the third world All this definitely provides for the possibility of fast change new prosperity and security of food supply in the whole world if properly applied The fast development also asks for ethical and sociopolitical considerations whereby not doing the right can be as much a mistake as doing the wrong

Recherche agricole et innovation en Afrique tropicale Pierre-Marie Bosc, Ellen Hanak Freud, 1995

Agricultural Research and Innovation in Tropical Africa is an in depth review of the role of research in the development of West and Central African agriculture In contrast to the conventional wisdom this vast region has been the site of successive agricultural growth dynamics in which research has played a key role Yet outside of the agro industrial sector the adoption of complete technical packages has been rare Innovation in smallholder agriculture has instead been partial and selective following patterns unanticipated by the research system that reflect constraints operating at the farm level labor scarcity limited access to capital and a combination of agricultural and economic risk Although a favorable economic environment has been essential for growth and innovation there is no magic formula concerning the types of institutions most suited to the task For output markets the issue seems less one of public versus private than of reliability Upstream both input supply and the availability of improved planting material appear to depend either on outright public support or else on a vertically integrated crop sector Agriculture in this region cannot hope to respond to the challenges lying ahead without major efforts by national and international research Foremost among the challenges is competitiveness in world and local markets against a background in which both sustainability of production systems and constraints at the farm level are better integrated into research strategies Page 15

own rights The difference between what borders are and what they are not to a people is the mere product of their own estimations and practices a disposition that leads the contributors to this book to study borders beyond states or nations and how borders are crossed or transferred from one point to the other for the convenience of their histories and being
