

HOW TO FIND A VACUUM LEAK

A close-up photograph of a car engine bay. A person's hand, wearing a white nitrile glove, is holding a silver spray can and spraying its contents onto various engine components, likely hoses and intake manifold areas, to identify vacuum leaks. The engine is dark and complex, with various wires and mechanical parts visible. A large, cylindrical, light-colored component, possibly a brake master cylinder or a vacuum reservoir, is prominent on the right side of the engine. The background shows the front of the car, including the hood and grille.
