Re-thinking Mobility Poverty Tobias Kuttler, Massimo Moraglio, 2020-12-17 This book seeks to better conceptualise and define mobility poverty addressing both its geographies and socio economic landscapes It moves beyond the analysis of transport poverty and innovatively explores mobility inequalities and social construction of mobility disadvantages The debate on mobility poverty is gaining momentum due to its role in triggering social exclusion and economic deprivation In this light this book examines the social construction of mobility poverty by delving into mobility patterns and needs as they are differently experienced by social groups in different geographical situations It considers factors such as the role of transport regimes and their social value when analysing the social construction of individual s mobility needs Furthermore the gaps between articulated and unarticulated needs are identified by observing actual travel patterns of individuals The book offers a comparison of the global phenomenon through fieldwork conducted in six different European countries Greece Portugal Italy Luxembourg Romania and Germany This book will be useful reading for planners sociologists geographers mobility transport researchers mobility advocates policy makers and transport practitioners The Open Access version of this book available at <https://doi.org/10.4324/9780367333317> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 license

Marriage Migration in Asia Sari K. Ishii, 2016-02-26 Men are disadvantaged in the marriage markets of many Asian countries and in some cases their response is to look abroad for a partner Receiving countries for marriage migrants include Japan Korea Taiwan Hong Kong and Singapore while the Philippines Thailand Vietnam Indonesia and parts of mainland China supply wives to these territories In the absence of uniform international regulations concerning the rights and obligations of partners such unions are treated differently in different jurisdiction In extreme cases migrants or their children become stateless and when marriages break down migrants sometimes face major legal problems In such circumstances marriage migrants are often portrayed as powerless uneducated victims Rejecting this perspective the authors in this volume explore the agency of women who migrate abroad to acquire opportunities unavailable to them in their homelands They show that the trajectories of marriage migrants are often not a simple movement from home to destination but can involve return repeated or extended migrations and that these transitions that can alter geographies of power in economics nationality or ethnicity Based on features shared by many marriage migrants the book identifies them as an emerging minority at the frontier of the nation state a group whose status may well carry over to future generations

Arctic Shipping Frédéric Lasserre, Olivier Faury, 2019-09-05 This book considers both the present state of Arctic shipping and possible future trends with reference to the various sectors of maritime transportation cruise tourism container traffic and bulk shipping Ports are analysed as tools that support the strategies of coastal states to foster the development of resource extraction enhance the attractiveness of Arctic shipping lanes and enable the control of maritime activities through coast guard deployment The aim of this book is to draw a picture of the trends of Arctic shipping How is traffic evolving in Canada's Arctic or along the Northern Sea Route Are there significant differences between bulk and container shipping segments when considering the Arctic market How are the ports and the hinterland developing and what are the strategies behind those How is the legal framework shaping the evolution of maritime transportation The contributors to this book consider all of these questions and more as they map out the prospects for Arctic shipping and analyse in detail the development of Arctic shipping as a result of multi variable interactions This book will be key reading for industry professionals and post graduate students alike

Critical Geographies of Sport Natalie Koch, 2016-10-04 Sport is a geographic phenomenon The physical and organizational infrastructure of sport occupies a prominent place in our society This important book takes an explicitly spatial approach to sport bringing together research in geography sport studies and related disciplines to articulate a critical approach to sports geography Critical Geographies of Sport illustrates this approach by engaging directly with a variety of theoretical traditions as well as the latest research methods Each chapter showcases the merits of a geographic approach to the study of sport ranging from football to running horseracing and professional wrestling Including cases from Asia Africa the Middle East Europe and the Americas the book highlights the ways that space and power are produced through sport and its concomitant infrastructures agencies and networks Holding these power relations at the center of its analysis it considers sport as a unique lens onto our understanding of space Truly global in its perspective it is fascinating reading for any student or scholar with an interest in sport and politics sport and society or human geography

Population, Migration and Settlement in Australia and the Asia-Pacific Natascha Klocker, Olivia Dun, 2018-12-07 The chapters in this book reflect on the work of seminal Australian geographer the late Professor Graeme Hugo Graeme Hugo was widely respected because of his impressive contributions to scholarship and policy in the fields of migration population and development which spanned several decades This collection of works contains contributions from authors whose own research has been influenced by Hugo and includes numerous authors who worked closely with Hugo throughout his career The collection provides an opportunity to reflect on Hugo s legacy and also to foreground contemporary scholarship in his key areas of research focus The chapters are organised into two thematic threads Part I contains works relating to Population Migration and Settlement in Australia while Part II focuses on Labour and Environmental Migration in the Asia Pacific Together these two thematic threads provide broad coverage of Graeme Hugo s key areas of research focus The chapters also serve as a reminder of Hugo s steadfast concern with producing careful scholarship for the public good and seek to prompt continued work in this vein The chapters originally published in special issues in Australian Geographer

Taking English Planning Law Scholarship Seriously Maria Lee, Carolyn Abbot, 2022-10-24 Planning is at the heart of the response to many of the significant challenges of our time from the climate and environmental crises to social and economic inequalities It is embedded in as well as partially constituting our democratic systems so that the challenges of democratic decision making in a complex society cannot be avoided when thinking about planning Planning law raises some of the most fundamental questions faced by legal scholars from the legitimacy of authority to the relationship between public and private rights and interests And yet planning law has been relatively neglected by legal scholars The objective of Taking English Planning Law Scholarship Seriously is to create space for planning law scholarship in all of its variety and for curiosity about law in all its complexity The chapters reflect this diversity and complexity covering a range of the objects of planning from housing to energy to highways and a multiplicity of planning tasks and tools from compulsory purchase to contracting to planning inquiries

The Great Music City Andrea Baker, 2019-03-01 In the 1960s as gentrification took hold of New York City Jane Jacobs predicted that the city would become the true player in the global system Indeed in the 21st century more meaningful comparisons can be made between cities than between nations and states Based on case studies of Melbourne Austin and Berlin this book is the first in depth study to combine academic and industry analysis of the music cities phenomenon Using four distinctly defined algorithms as benchmarks it interrogates Richard Florida s creative cities thesis and applies a much needed synergy of urban sociology and musicology to the concept mediated by a journalism lens Building on seminal work by Robert Park Lewis Mumford and Jane Jacobs it argues that journalists are the cultural branders and street theorists whose ethnographic approach offers critical insights into the urban sociability of music activity
