Menichelli

Geography March Paper 2014:

Geofinance between Political and Financial Geographies Silvia Grandi, Christian Sellar, Juvaria Jafri, 2019-12-27 This edited collection explores the boundaries between political and financial geographies focusing on the linkages between the changing strategies policies and institutions of the state It also investigates banks and other financial institutions affected by both state policies and a globalizing financial system and the financial resources available to firms as well as households In so doing the book highlights how an empirical focus on the semi periphery of the financial system may generate new perspectives on the entanglement between geo politics and finance

Gender, Asset Accumulation and Just Cities Caroline O.N. Moser, 2015-10-05 With more than half the world's population now living in urban areas urbanisation is undoubtedly one of the most important phenomena of the 21st century However despite increasing recognition of the critical relationship between economic and social development in cities gender issues are often overlooked in understanding the complexities of current urbanisation processes This book seeks to rectify this neglect Gender Asset Accumulation and Just Cities explores the contribution that a focus on the gendered nature of asset accumulation brings to the goal of achieving just more equitable cities To date neither the academic debates nor the formulated policy and practice on just cities has included a focus on gender based inequalities discriminations or opportunities From a gender perspective a separate discourse exists closely associated with gender justice particularly in relation to urban rights and democracy Neither however has addressed the implications for women's accumulation of assets and associated empowerment for transformational pathways to just cities In this book contributors specifically focus on gender and just cities from a wide range of gendered perspectives that include households housing land gender based violence transport climate and disasters

Urbanization with Chinese Characteristics: The Hukou System and Migration Kam Wing Chan, 2018-04-19 Many agree that rapid urbanization in China in the late 20th and early 21st centuries is a mega process significantly reshaping China and the global economy China's urbanization also carries a certain mystique which has long fascinated generations of scholars and journalists alike As it has turned out many of the asserted Chinese feats are mostly fancied claims or gross misinterpretations of statistics for example There does exist however an urbanization that displays rather uncommon Chinese characteristics that remain to be inadequately understood Building on his three decades of careful research Professor Kam Wing Chan expertly dissects the complexity of China's hukou system migration urbanization and their interrelationships in this set of journal articles published in the last ten years These works range from seminal papers on Chinese urban definitions and statistics and broad perspective analysis of the hukou system of its first semi centennial to examinations of migration trends and geography and critical evaluations of China's 2014 urbanization blueprint and hukou reform plan This convenient assemblage contains many of Chan's recent important works Together they also form a relatively coherent set on this topic They are essential readings to anyone serious about gaining a true understanding of the prodigious urbanization in contemporary China Mega-Event Mobilities Noel B. Salazar, Christiane Timmerman, Johan Wets, Luana Gama Gato, Sarah Van den Broucke, 2016-12-01 Global sports events are rarely far from the public eye Such mega events are about much more than the sporting competitions themselves They entail global exposure and intense struggles by different stakeholders This is the first book to examine sports mega events from a mobilities perspective It analyses the mobile construction of global sports mega events and the role this plays in managing labour imaginaries policies and legacies In particular the book focuses on the tension between the various mobilities and immobilities that are implied in the process of constructing a mega event It seeks to uncover the ways in which an event is a series of fluid interactions that occur sequentially and simultaneously at multiple scales in diverse spheres of interaction Contributions explore the dynamics through which mega events occur revealing the textures and nuance of the complex systems that sustain them and the ways that events ramify throughout the international system

The Oxford Handbook of the Economics of Networks Yann Bramoullé, Andrea Galeotti, Brian Rogers, 2016-03-01 The Oxford Handbook of the Economics of Networks represents the frontier of research into how and why networks they form how they influence behavior how they help govern outcomes in an interactive world and how they shape collective decision making opinion formation and diffusion dynamics From a methodological perspective the contributors to this volume devote attention to theory field experiments laboratory experiments and econometrics Theoretical work in network formation games played on networks repeated games and the interaction between linking and behavior is synthesized A number of chapters are devoted to studying social process mediated by networks Topics here include opinion formation diffusion of information and disease and learning There are also chapters devoted to financial contagion and systemic risk motivated in part by the recent financial crises Another section discusses communities with applications including social trust favor exchange and social collateral the importance of communities for migration patterns and the role that networks and communities play in the labor market A prominent role of networks from an economic perspective is that they mediate trade Several chapters cover bilateral trade in networks strategic intermediation and the role of networks in international trade Contributions discuss as well the role of networks for organizations On the one hand one chapter discusses the role of networks for the performance of organizations while two other chapters discuss managing networks of consumers and pricing in the presence of network based spillovers Finally the authors discuss the internet as a network with attention to the issue of net neutrality

Doom Niall Ferguson, 2021-05-04 All disasters are in some sense man made Setting the annus horribilis of 2020 in historical perspective Niall Ferguson explains why we are getting worse not better at handling disasters Disasters are inherently hard to predict Pandemics like earthquakes wildfires financial crises and wars are not normally distributed there is no cycle of history to help us anticipate the next catastrophe But when disaster strikes we ought to be better prepared than the Romans were when Vesuvius erupted or medieval Italians when the Black Death struck We have science on our side after all Yet in 2020 the responses of many developed countries including the United States to a new virus from China were badly bungled Why Why did only a few Asian countries learn the right lessons from SARS and MERS While populist leaders certainly performed poorly in the face of the COVID 19 pandemic Niall Ferguson argues that more profound pathologies were at work pathologies already visible in our responses to earlier disasters In books going back nearly twenty years including Colossus The Great Degeneration and The Square and the Tower Ferguson has studied the foibles of modern America from imperial hubris to bureaucratic sclerosis and online fragmentation Drawing from multiple disciplines including economics cliodynamics and network science Doom offers not just a history but a general theory of disasters showing why our ever more bureaucratic and complex systems are getting worse at handling them Doom is the lesson of history that this country indeed the West as a whole urgently needs to learn if we want to handle the next crisis better and to avoid the ultimate doom of irreversible decline Displacement, Asylum and the City René Kreichauf, Birgit Glorius, 2023-05-22 This edited volume draws attention to the interlinked yet understudied relationship between the role of cities in dealing with international displacement and forced migration and the influence of forced migration in stimulating spatial societal and institutional transformations in and of cities In 2022 almost 84 million people worldwide were forcibly displaced More than two thirds of them reside in urban areas Displacement and forced migration are an urban experience and an urban story of those seeking protection This book helps us understanding the conditions of displaced population in cities and the way cities and urban actors respond to recent migration trends It applies an urban perspective to the analysis of migration processes and it provides insights into the urban governance of forced migration and asylum the production of spaces related to forced migration and the role of the displaced population as actors of urban change Thereby it covers a broad spectrum of topics including migrant dispersal welfare and social protection urban humanitarian policymaking and governance neighbourhood development migrant solidarity and refugee protest and new refugee and migrant destinations Given the increasing mobility and displacement of human populations this book provides a relevant prerequisite for readers interested in current urban forced migration and asylum trends and on the intersections of those topics The book will be of great value to researchers and academics of Geography Migration and Urban Studies The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Urban Geography The Great Music City Andrea Baker, 2019-03-01 In the 1960s as gentrification took hold of New York City Jane Jacobs predicted that the city would become the true player in the global system Indeed in the 21st century more meaningful comparisons can be made between cities than between nations and states Based on case studies of Melbourne Austin and Berlin this book is the first in depth study to combine academic and industry analysis of the music cities phenomenon Using four distinctly defined algorithms as benchmarks it interrogates Richard Florida's creative cities thesis and applies a much needed synergy of urban sociology and musicology to the concept mediated by a journalism lens Building on seminal work by Robert Park Lewis Mumford and Jane Jacobs it argues that journalists are the cultural branders and street theorists whose ethnographic approach offers critical insights into the urban sociability of music activity

Deepening Neoliberalism, Austerity, and Crisis Julien Mercille, Enda Murphy, 2015-07-07 From bank bailouts to austerity Europe's and Ireland's response to the economic crisis has been engineered specifically to shift the burden of paying for the crisis onto ordinary citizens while investors financiers bankers and the privileged are protected The authors expose the class based nature of Ireland's crisis resolution

Young Women's Carceral Geographies Anna Schliehe, 2021-08-11 Interrogating conceptual ideas around power punishment and abandonment with specific reference to the experience of young women this book examines the particular challenges that young women face within the criminal justice system and traces their journeys in out and beyond confinement
