Czech and Polish Sound Memories of the Second World War Radmila Švaříčková Slabáková, Marcin Filipowicz, Dobrawa Lisak-Gębala, Sławomir Wieczorek, Andrea Hanáčková, 2025-11-03 This book investigates the crucial yet often overlooked role of sound in shaping the memory of the Second World War Through an interdisciplinary and transnational approach this volume addresses a notable gap in memory studies and argues that auditory experiences are central to how war is remembered commemorated and narrated By placing sound at the heart of collective remembrance this book reveals how sonic elements influence public discourse shape collective identities and contribute to the evolving transformation of war memory Bringing together scholars from the Czech Republic and Poland this volume examines how the Second World War has been remembered through sound since the 1990s across three distinct media museum exhibitions prose fiction and sound art including soundwalks and field recordings This innovative framework underscores the importance of exploring how different media evoke and reproduce sound to grasp the complexity and diversity of wartime memory in Central Europe Focusing on Czech and Polish memory cultures the book demonstrates that sound may function in multiple and sometimes contradictory ways as a means of reinforcing national narratives as a tool for critical engagement or as a medium for experimental and marginal perspectives This volume is essential reading for scholars in memory studies sound studies cultural and public history museology literary theory and musicology as well as for museum professionals and anyone interested in how the past resonates literally and metaphorically through sound Jozova Hanule Kveta Legatova, 2002

Home and the World in Slovak Writing Katarina Gephardt, Charles Sabatos, Ivana Taranenková, 2025-03-04 Literatures of small nations represent a minuscule portion of the global literary marketplace where books written in English outnumber translated works The struggle for visibility in relation to dominant languages and cultures is not new in Slovakia a nation of five million whose literary history has been shaped by the influence of more widely spoken languages including Hungarian Czech and Russian Home and the World in Slovak Writing brings Slovak literature out of this isolation to tell the story of how a nation's literature can survive and thrive despite a small domestic audience and relatively limited circulation in English translation The book demonstrates how historic events such as the post Stalin Thaw the Prague Spring and the Velvet Revolution moulded the Slovak canon and situates contemporary Slovak literature in broader regional and global contexts Through case studies of the transformations and adaptations of Slovak literature contributors examine the changing social roles of writers the tensions between tradition and innovation and the dynamic interactions between influences from the outside world and domestic sources of inspiration Home and the World in Slovak Writing maps the relationship between geopolitical destiny and literary production at a critical moment As relations between the East and the West are destabilized by war the question of cultural identity has again become a matter of national survival in Central Europe
