Mississippi's Black Cotton John Obee,MacArthur Cotton,2025-05 The literature of the civil rights movement is replete with stories about the major actors in the movement including for example Martin Luther King but there is little focus on the MacArthur Cottons of the era the young Black men and women who at great risk to their physical and mental health chose to become involved in the movement when so many others chose not to Without these young Black people there would have been no movement and what was accomplished with the Civil Rights Acts of the 1960s would never have happened This was particularly true in Mississippi the most repressive of all fifty states and one that had sponsored state terrorism to ensure that white supremacy reigned supreme Despite having no real reason to believe that change could happen MacArthur Cotton and those like him believed that they had to act In MacArthur s case his actions were in the tradition of his activist family and he relates his involvement with many of the important figures in the Mississippi movement such as Medgar Evers and Fannie Lou Hamer Importantly he also honors others like him who are largely unknown to history such as the Greenes and McGees in Greenwood who were waging their own war against their oppressive state While having been imprisoned many times and having lived in a constant state of terror Cotton persisted as a foot soldier in a war and as with all veterans of wars was left with emotional and psychological scars Despite the toll that it took on him as a person however he remains a committed activist to this day Belleville Kathleen Leonard,2016-12-05 Belleville is a coming of age story based on the life of the authors own mother Margaret who grew up in southern Illinois This book tells the tale of her and her extended familys colorful life during the struggle and the simple lifestyle of the Depression era and on into the distress and prosperity of the Second World War A Primer for Teaching World History Antoinette Burton,2012 This book offers principles to consider when creating a world history syllabus it prompts a teacher rather than aiming for full world coverage to pick an interpretive focus and thread it through the course It will be used by university faculty graduate students and high school teachers who are teaching world history for the first time or want to rethink their approach to teaching the subject Parenting with a Purpose Walter E. McDonald,2010-05 Parenting with a purpose is the process designed by God during which each child is led to establish a foundation on which he can build a responsible productive adult life There are many situational variations of this process but each variation includes a commitment to three fundamental building blocks These building blocks are A Sound Moral Base The Best Available Education The Inner Motivation To Succeed Walter E McDonald currently teaches a young adult Sunday school class for parents with children in elementary school and middle school He was ordained a deacon in 1978 and he has been teaching Sunday school since 1965 He has taught children youth high school students college students young married couples single adults and senior adults He has also worked with youth mission groups such as Royal Ambassadors and Shepherd Boys His approach to teaching no matter what age group he teaches has always been that of the Apostle Paul written in 1 Corinthians 2 2 For I determined not to know anything among you save Jesus Christ and him crucified KJV
