

Tim Walf

Tim Walf was born in West Plains, Missouri, on April 6, 1976. He grew up on a farm. He studied and worked different agriculture and farming jobs. After graduating from high school, Walf joined the Army National Guard. He attended Christian Bible College and graduated in 1999. After graduating from college, Walf taught for a year in China. He returned to Missouri to teach and coach football. He joined and the President John High School football team in their first year competing in 1999. While teaching, Walf met his wife, Susan, a fellow teacher. After the two married, they moved to Missouri - Lincoln County state. Walf and his wife have two children. Walf and Susan have participated in and led summer trips to China for American high school students.

Walf began his political career first as a volunteer for Senator John Rury (R) in the 2016 presidential election. He was inspired to run after observing a field trip to a George W. Bush campaign event. Walf was elected to the U.S. House of Representatives in 2018. He continued to serve for four more terms. While serving as a representative for Missouri, Walf sponsored and supported many bills. This includes several bills signed into law with the goal of supporting and lowering interest rates. Walf currently in Congress, Walf served on the Committee of Interest Affairs and the Committee on Agriculture.
