

4th Step Inventory (for Step Meetings)

Although everyone has faults, it is always difficult to admit them. Thus, Step 4 is one of the most difficult steps to take. One group has found an almost painless way of achieving this end, and the results have been rewarding in the extreme.

These forms may be passed out to members for filling in every week. However, to fill in the form is only the beginning. After discussion and consideration - and a lapse of time - the forms should be brought back to the meeting and gone over again to check the improvement.
