Nariz De Vidro:

Daqui fala o Sam DUSTIN THAO, Play and Power in Religion André Droogers, 2011-11-30 At a religion's margins a counterpoint can be found for its power center In a creative manner relatively free from clerical control religious virtuosos take new initiatives there Inspired by their experience with the sacred they explore their liberty to play with meanings images and practices Yet the eventual success of such an innovation calls for organization and thus for the exercise of power Accordingly new movements slow down into institutions till a new virtuoso brings the cycle to a fresh start Over the last thirty years Andr Droogers has extensively published on the relation between religion power and play In this collection of essays the most relevant articles are reprinted For this volume Droogers wrote an autobiographical introduction showing how the contingencies of a career may nevertheless lead to a more or less consistent approach In Part I of the book articles are included that represent the basic ideas of Droogers approach with an emphasis on margin inversion ritual and meaning making In part II some of his articles on syncretism and Pentecostalism illustrate his views Part III contains articles that apply the play and power perspective to methodological issues in the study of religion , Sabedoria Das Parábolas! , *Polyanthea medicinal. appraisals of his islands explored and of a suspenseful return voyage to Spain the Diario provides a fascinating and useful account to historians geographers anthropologists sailors students and anyone else interested in the discovery or in a very good sea story Oliver Dunn received the PH D degree from Cornell University He is Professor Emeritus in Purdue University and a longtime student of Spanish and early history of Spanish America James E Kelley Jr received the M A degree from American University A mathematician and computer and management consultant by vocation for the past twenty years he has studied the history of European cartography and navigation in late medieval times Both are members of the Society for the History of Discoveries and have written extensively on the history of navigation and on Columbus s first voyage Although they remain unconvinced of its conclusions both were consultants to the National geographic Society s 1986 effort to establish Samana Cay as the site of Columbus s first landing
