Coyote and Raven Go Canoeing Peter Cole, 2006-01-17 we are narrators, narratives, voices, interlocutors of our own knowings. We can determine for ourselves what our educational needs are before the coming of churches, residential schools, prisons. Before we knew how we knew we knew. In a gesture toward traditional First Nations orality, Peter Cole blends poetic and dramatic voices with storytelling. A conversation between two tricksters, Coyote and Raven, and the colonized and the colonizers. His narrative takes the form of a canoe journey. Cole draws on traditional Aboriginal knowledge to move away from the western genres that have long contained, shaped, and determined Aboriginal originality. Written in free verse, Coyote and Raven Go Canoeing is meant to be read aloud and breaks new ground by making orality the foundation of its scholarship. Cole moves beyond the rhetoric and presumption of white academic discourse, colonizers to Aboriginal spaces recreated by Aboriginal peoples. Rather than employing the traditional western practice of gathering information about exoticized, other, demonized, other, contained other, Coyote and Raven Go Canoeing is a celebration of Aboriginal thought, spirituality, and practice, a sharing of lived experience as First Peoples.
