Inverting the Norm: Racially-Mixed Congregations in a Segregationist State Galjoen Press, 2007-12-17

Inverting the Norm describes how a few Christian congregations in apartheid South Africa achieved racial integration despite the state's legal enforcement of segregation The book analyzes how this paradoxical racial integration alongside state segregation relates to historical shifts in global and national norms

Dismantling Apartheid Walton Johnson, 2018-08-06 As a result of Pretoria's 1976 imposition of independence on the black homeland of Transkei its capital city Umtata became one of the first communities in South Africa to experience fundamental changes in the apartheid This timely book discusses those relationships that remained unchanged as well as the important race and class realignments that accompanied apartheid's dismantling Walton R Johnson shows that although the universal franchise radically altered municipal government and desegregation changed access to some public and private amenities transformation of the basic patterns of dominance and subordination occurred slowly He describes how the established dominant group perpetuated key parts of the old order by guiding and manipulating a pliable new African middle class For the mass of Africans the facade was new he makes clear but the underlying structures were the same effective social and political control stayed for a long while in the hands of the white elite and few new economic opportunities opened for Africans His chapter on personal ideologies shows how deeply cultural much of this behavior was Providing an informed account of change and continuity in one town Dismantling Apartheid is a compelling preview of future social relations in South Africa

Robert Sobukwe - How can Man Die Better Benjamin Pogrand, 2015-06-26 I am greatly privileged to have known him and to have fallen under his spell His long imprisonment restriction and early death were a major tragedy for our land and the world ARCHBISHOP DESMOND TUTU on Sobukwe On 21 March 1960 Robert Mangaliso Sobukwe led a mass defiance of South Africa's pass laws He urged blacks to go to the nearest police station and demand arrest Police opened fire on a peaceful crowd in the township of Sharpeville and killed 69

people This protest changed the course of South Africa's history Sobukwe leader of the Pan Africanist Congress was jailed for three years for incitement At the end of his sentence the government rushed the so called Sobukwe Clause through Parliament to keep him in prison without a trial For the next six years Sobukwe was kept in solitary confinement on Robben Island On his release Sobukwe was banished to the town of Kimberley with very severe restrictions on his freedom until his death in February 1978 This book is the story of a South African hero and of the friendship between him and Benjamin Pogrund whose joint experiences and debates chart the course of a tyrannous regime and the growth of black resistance This new edition of How Can Man Die Better contains a number of previously unpublished photographs and an updated Epilogue
