Locative Media Rowan Wilken, Gerard Goggin, 2014-08-07 Not only is locative media one of the fastest growing areas in digital technology but questions of location and location awareness are increasingly central to our contemporary engagements with online and mobile media and indeed media and culture generally This volume is a comprehensive account of the various location based technologies services applications and cultures as media with an aim to identify inventory explore and critique their cultural economic political social and policy dimensions internationally In particular the collection is organized around the perception that the growth of locative media gives rise to a number of crucial questions concerning the areas of culture economy and policy Journal of Qualitative Education ,2013-05 Inside/Outside Islamic Art and Architecture Saygin Salgirli, 2021-07-29 When we walk into a gallery we have a fairly good idea where the building begins and ends and inside while observing a painting we are equally confident in distinguishing between the painting proper and its frame and borders Yet things are often more complicated A building defines an exterior space just as much as an interior and what we perceive to be ornamental and marginal to a given painting may in fact be central to what it represents In this volume a simple question is presented instead of dichotomous separations between inside and outside or exterior and interior what other relationships can we think of The first book of its kind to grapple with this question Inside Outside Islamic Art and Architecture focuses on a wide spectrum of mediums and topics including painted manuscripts objects architectural decoration architecture and urban planning and photography Bringing together scholars with diverse methodologies who work on a geographical span stretching from India to Spain and Nigeria and across a temporal spectrum from the thirteenth to the twenty first century this original book also poses engaging questions about the boundaries of the field Research and Debate in Primary Geography Simon Catling, 2017-10-02 This book brings together recent papers which make important contributions to understanding and developing primary geography It considers primary teachers and trainee teachers knowledge of geography how the primary curriculum uses geography teachers planning of geography teaching the way in which aspects of geography are taught what high quality geography might look like and children s geographical understanding and voices Though geography curricula change quite often in countries around the world the core matters noted above remain of constant and vital importance The papers in this book either concern research with primary teachers and children or consider key concerns in primary geography providing important perspectives for thinking about future developments in geography teaching and curriculum initiatives in primary schools This is a stimulating and enticing collection written by leading exponents of and experts in primary geography education This book was originally published as a special issue of Education 3 13 Handbook on Global Value Chains Stefano Ponte, 2019 Global value chains GVCs are a key feature of the global economy in the 21st century They show how international investment and trade create cross border production networks that link countries firms and workers around the globe This Handbook describes how GVCs arise and vary across industries and countries and how they have evolved over time in response to economic and political forces With chapters written by leading interdisciplinary scholars the Handbook unpacks the key concepts of GVC governance and upgrading and explores policy implications for advanced and developing economies alike

Queering Fat Embodiment Cat Pausé, Jackie Wykes, Samantha Murray, 2016-05-23 Cultural anxieties about fatness and the attendant stigmatisation of fat bodies have lent a medical authority and cultural legitimacy to what can be described as fat phobia Against the backdrop of the ever growing medicalisation pathologisation and commodification of fatness coupled with the moral panic over an alleged obesity epidemic this volume brings together the latest scholarship from various critical disciplines to challenge existing ideas of fat and fat embodiment Shedding light on the ways in which fat embodiment is lived experienced regulated and re produced across a range of cultural sites and contexts Queering Fat Embodiment destabilises established ideas about fat bodies making explicit the intersectionality of fat identities and thereby countering the assertion that fat studies has in recent years reproduced a white ableist heteronormative subjectivity in its analyses A critical queer examination on fatness Queering Fat Embodiment will be of interest to scholars of cultural and queer theory sociology and media studies working on questions of embodiment stigmatisation and gender and sexuality

Memory in a Mediated World Andrea Hajek, Christine Lohmeier, Christian Pentzold, 2016-02-10 Considering both retrospective memories and the prospective employment of memories Memory in a Mediated World examines troubled times that demand resolution recovery and restoration Its contributions provide empirically grounded analyses of how media are employed by individuals and social groups to connect the past the present and the future

Responding to Climate Change in Asian Cities Diane Archer, Sarah Colenbrander, David Dodman, 2016-11-03 The role of cities in addressing climate change is increasingly recognised in international arenas including the Sustainable Development Goals the UN Framework Convention on Climate Change and the New Urban Agenda Asia is home to many of the countries that are most vulnerable to climate change impacts and along with Africa will be the site of most urban population growth over the coming decades Bringing together a range of city experiences Responding to Climate Change in Asian Cities provides valuable insights into how cities can overcome some of the barriers to building climate resilience including addressing the needs of vulnerable populations The chapters are centred on an overarching understanding that adaptive urban governance is necessary for climate resilience This requires engaging with different actors to take into account their experiences vulnerabilities and priorities building knowledge including collecting and using appropriate evidence and understanding the institutions shaping interactions between actors from the national to the local level The chapters draw on a mix of research methodologies demonstrating the variety of approaches to understanding and building urban resilience that can be applied in urban settings Bringing together a range of expert contributors this book will be of great interest to scholars of urban studies sustainability and environmental studies development studies and Asian studies Transnational Mobilities in Action Sport Cultures H. Thorpe,2014-05-30 This book contributes to recent debates in transnationalism mobilities and migration studies by offering the first in depth sociological examination of the global phenomenon of action sports and the transnational networks and connections being established within and across local contexts around the world Performing Dream Homes Emily Klein,Jennifer-Scott Mobley,Jill Stevenson,2019-01-22 This anthology explores how theatre and performance use home as the prism through which we reconcile shifts in national cultural and personal identity Whether examining parlor dramas and kitchen sink realism site specific theatre travelling tent shows domestic labor border performances fences or front yards these essays demonstrate how dreams of home are enmeshed with notions of neighborhood community politics and memory Recognizing the family home as a symbolic space that extends far beyond its walls the nine contributors to this collection study diverse English language performances from the US Ireland and Canada These scholars of theatre history dramaturgy performance cultural studies feminist and gender studies and critical race studies also consider the value of home at a time increasingly defined by crises of homelessness a moment when major cities face affordable housing shortages when debates about homeland and citizenship have dominated internationalelections and when conflicts and natural disasters have displaced millions Global struggles over immigration sanctuary refugee status and migrant labor make the stakes of home and homelessness ever more urgent and visible as this timely collection reveals

The Political Economy of City Branding Ari-Veikko Anttiroiko, 2014-02-24 Globalization affects urban communities in many ways One of its manifestations is increased intercity competition which compels cities to increase their attractiveness in terms of capital entrepreneurship information expertise and consumption This competition takes place in an asymmetric field with cities trying to find the best possible ways of using their natural and created assets the latter including a naturally evolving reputation or consciously developed competitive identity or brand The Political Economy of City Branding discusses this phenomenon from the perspective of numerous post industrial cities in North America Europe East Asia and Australasia Special attention is given to local economic development policy and industrial profiling and global city rankings are used to provide empirical evidence for cities characteristics and positions in the global urban hierarchy On top of this social and urban challenges such as creative class struggle are also discussed The core message of the book is that cities should apply the tools of city branding in their industrial promotion and specialization but at the same time take into account the special nature of their urban communities and be open and inclusive in their brand policies in order to ensure optimal results This book will be of interest to scholars and practitioners working in the areas of local economic development urban planning public management and branding

Labour in the Clothing Industry in the Asia Pacific Vicki Crinis, Adrian Vickers, 2016-11-25 The clothing industry provides employment for 60 million workers worldwide More than a quarter of these workers are employed in the Asia Pacific region where the industry is based on subcontracted production on behalf of international buyers Rapid movements of manufacturing activity from country to country in search of cost advantages make clothing workers part of a globalizing labour market where they increasingly suffer from job insecurity This book presents carefully researched case studies which highlight the ways in which labour is informalized fragmented and made disposable by the globalization of production Chapters address issues pertaining to rights and citizenship and new forms of activism and organization in conjunction and coordination with diverse support groups consumers and wider global campaigns Contributors further examine the role of the nation state government regulatory bodies as well as independent monitoring systems such as the International Labour Organization Although there has been considerable effort directed to understanding how firms operate across multiple countries in studies of the organization of global production networks and the implications for complexities of scale de territorialization and state development projects there has been far less focus on how these processes produce precarious labour and reshape worker consciousness Offering new insights into the understanding and support of workers in the global textile and garment industry this book will be of interest to academics in a variety of disciplines including Asian Studies sociology political economy development human rights labour and gender

The SAGE Handbook of Human Geography, 2v Roger Lee, Noel Castree, Rob Kitchin, Vicky Lawson, Anssi Paasi, Chris Philo, Sarah Radcliffe, Susan M. Roberts, Charles Withers, 2014-05-22 Superb How refreshing to see a Handbook that eschews convention and explores the richness and diversity of the geographical imagination in such stimulating and challenging ways Peter Dicken University of Manchester Stands out as an innovative and exciting contribution that exceeds the genre Sallie A Marston University of Arizona Captures wonderfully the richness and complexity of the worlds that human beings inhabit This is a stand out among handbooks Lily Kong National University of Singapore This wonderfully unconventional book demonstrates human geography's character and significance not by marching through traditional themes but by presenting a set of geographical essays on basic ideas practices and concerns Alexander B Murphy University of Oregon This SAGE Handbook stands out for its capacity to provoke the reader to think anew about human geography essays that offer some profoundly original insights into what it means to engage geographically with the world Eric Sheppard UCLA Published in association with the journal Progress in Human Geography edited and written by the principal scholars in the discipline this Handbook demonstrates the difference that thinking about the world geographically makes Each section considers how human geography shapes the world interrogates it and intervenes in it It includes a major retrospective and prospective introductory essay with three substantive sections on Imagining Human Geographies Practising Human Geographies Living Human Geographies The Handbook also has an innovative multimedia component of conversations about key issues in human geography as well as an overview of human geography from the Editors A key reference for any scholar interested in questions about what difference it makes to think spatially or geographically about the world this Handbook is a rich and textured statement about the geographical imagination

Measuring Welfare beyond Economics Claudio O. Delang, Yi Hang Yu, 2015-06-26 Dissatisfaction with the Gross Domestic Product GDP as an indicator of a country's development or a population's wellbeing led to the development of the Genuine Progress Indicator GPI The GPI is an aggregate index of over 20 economic social and environmental indicators and accounts for both the welfare benefits of economic growth and the social and environmental costs which accompany that economic growth The result is better information about the level of welfare or well being of a country's population This book measures the GPI of Hong Kong and Singapore from 1968 to 2010 It finds that for both countries economic output as measured by the GDP has grown more than welfare as measured by the GPI but important differences are also found In Hong Kong the GPI has grown for the whole period under consideration while in Singapore the GPI has stalled from 1993 This is in line with most countries and is explained by the threshold hypothesis which states that beyond a certain level of economic development the benefits of further economic growth are outweighed by even higher environmental and social costs The book argues that the growth of Hong Kong's GPI is due to its favourable relationship with China and in particular its ability to export low wage jobs and polluting industries rather than successful domestic policies A stalling or shrinking GPI calls for alternative policies than the growth economy promoted by neoclassical economists and the book explores an alternative model that of the Steady State Economy SSE

Transdisciplinary Research and Practice for Sustainability Outcomes Dena Fam,Jane Palmer,Chris Riedy,Cynthia Mitchell,2016-11-10 Transdisciplinarity is a form of research and practice that synthesises knowledge from a range of academic disciplines and from the community There is now global interest and a significant body of work on transdisciplinarity and its potential to address the apparently intractable problems of society This creates the opportunity for a specific focus on its practical application to sustainability issues Transdisciplinary Research and Practice for Sustainability Outcomes examines the role of transdisciplinarity in the transformations needed for a sustainable world After an historical overview of transdisciplinarity Part I focuses on tools and frameworks to achieve sustainability outcomes in practice and Part II consolidates work by a number of scholars on supporting transdisciplinary researchers and practitioners Part III is a series of case studies including several international examples that demonstrate the challenges and rewards of transdisciplinary work The concluding chapter proposes a future research pathway for understanding the human factors that underpin successful transdisciplinary research As Emeritus Professor Valerie Brown AO notes in her Preface this book moves transdisciplinary inquiry into the academic and social mainstream It will be of great interest to researchers and practitioners in the fields of sustainability qualitative research methods environmental impact assessment and development studies

Archipelago Tourism Godfrey Baldacchino,2016-03-09 Exploring the conceptual insights provided by the archipelagic twist in the context of tourism principles policies and practices this volume draws on an international series of case studies to analyse best practice in branding marketing and logistics in archipelago tourist destinations The book asks and seeks to answer such questions as How to sell a multi island destination without risking a message that may be too complex and diffuse for audiences to grab on to Does one encourage visitors to do island hopping and if so how and with what logistic facilities How does one ascribe specific island destinations within an overall archipelago brand Would smaller islands rebel against a composite branding strategy that actually benefits other islands How does one read or craft transport policies as a function of the reterritorialisation of a multi island space This book pioneers the exploration of the archipelago as tourism study focus and not just locus a heuristic device for rendering islands as sites of different tourism practices industries and policies but also of challenges and possibilities

Incomplete Streets Stephen Zavestoski,Julian Agyeman,2014-08-27 The Complete Streets concept and movement in urban planning and policy has been hailed by many as a revolution that aims to challenge the auto normative paradigm by reversing the broader effects of an urban form shaped by the logic of keeping automobiles moving By enabling safe access for all users Complete Streets promise to make cities more walkable and livable and at the same time more sustainable This book problematizes the Complete Streets concept by suggesting that streets should not be thought of as merely physical spaces but as symbolic and social spaces When important social and symbolic narratives are missing from the discourse and practice of Complete Streets what actually results are incomplete streets The volume questions whether the ways in which complete streets narratives policies plans and efforts are envisioned and implemented might be systematically reproducing many of the urban spatial and social inequalities and injustices that have characterized cities for the last century or more From critiques of a mobility bias rooted in the neoliberal foundations of the Complete Streets concept to concerns about resulting environmental gentrification the chapters in Incomplete Streets variously call for planning processes that give voice to the historically marginalized and more broadly that approach streets as dynamic fluid and public social places This interdisciplinary book is aimed at students researchers and professionals in the fields of urban geography environmental studies urban planning and policy transportation planning and urban sociology

Transnational Lives in China A. Lehmann, 2014-01-16 Increasing numbers of people from Western nations are leaving home to work within the developing economies of Asia Here Angela Lehmann explores a second tier city in China and uses sociological theory to understand the impact of global mobility on identity community and belonging
