Debates in Geography Education Mark Jones, David Lambert, 2017-09-07 Debates in Geography Education encourages early career teachers experienced teachers and teacher educators to engage with and reflect on key issues concepts and debates It aims to enable readers to reach their own informed judgements with deeper theoretical knowledge and understanding The second edition is fully updated in light of the latest research policy and practice in the field as well as key changes to the curriculum and examination specifications Expert contributors provide a range of perspectives on international historical and policy contexts in order to deepen our understanding of significant debates in geography education Key debates include geography s identity as an academic discipline what constitutes knowledge in geography places and regional geography what it means to think geographically constructing the curriculum how we link assessment to making progress in geography the contribution of fieldwork and outdoor experiences technology and the use of Geographical Information school geography and employability understanding the gap between school and university geography evidence based practice and research in geography education The comprehensive rigorous coverage of these key issues together with carefully annotated selected further reading will help support and shape further research and writing Debates in Geography Education is a key resource that is essential reading for all teachers and researches who wish to extend their grasp of the place of geography in education Mark Jones is Senior Lecturer in Education at the University of the West of England Bristol UK David Lambert is Professor of Geography Education at UCL Institute of Education London UK Mentoring Geography Teachers in the Secondary School Grace Healy, Lauren Hammond, Steve Puttick, Nicola Walshe, 2022-02-27 Mentoring Geography Teachers in the Secondary School supports both new and experienced mentors in developing their knowledge and skills in mentoring in geography education Within the book chapter authors critically consider how mentoring has been conceptualised and represented in policy and academic debate as well as examining how mentoring in geography education has been experienced and perceived in practice Chapters in the book explore a range of perspectives experiences and aspects of mentoring geography teachers including Critical engagement with educational policy and practice Perspectives from beginning geography teachers Mentoring as a professional development opportunity The value of engaging with the geography education community in teacher education How mentoring meetings and conversations can support beginning geography teachers in their growth and development This book is a vital source of support and inspiration for all those involved in developing the next generation of geography teachers The themes of justice agency and voice raised and engaged with implicitly and explicitly throughout this edited collection are of critical importance to mentors beginning teachers and geography education more broadly in developing and enacting a progressive vision of mentoring Disciplinary Literacy and Explicit Vocabulary Teaching: A whole school approach to closing the attainment gap Kathrine Mortimore, 2020-12-15 Firmly rooted in research evidence of what works within the classroom for our most disadvantaged students Disciplinary Literacy and Explicit Vocabulary Teaching offers teachers and school leaders practical ways in which those students who are behind in their literacy capabilities can make excellent progress Building on the work of Geoff Barton in his influential book Don't Call it Literacy Kathrine Mortimore outlines the unique literacy challenges posed by specific subject areas for those with weaker literacy skills and more importantly how these challenges can be addressed and overcome A student's GCSE results are vital in giving them the choices they deserve in order to go on to the next stage of their academic careers This book draws on the success stories of schools and subjects that have made significant improvements in the outcomes of the children they teach regardless of their starting points From the inevitable success of Michaela Community school to the gains made by the English department at Torquay Academy and the rapid reading improvements at Henley Bank this book draws on both whole school initiatives and subject specific strategies which have had proven success This book places a wide and balanced knowledge rich curriculum at the centre of any school improvement strategy designed to improve literacy and illustrates the role that all subjects must combine to play in building the vital background knowledge and vocabulary that young people need in order to read independently This curriculum must then be delivered using those teaching methods that have had the greatest impact on disadvantaged learners and this book sets out how the methodology of direct and explicit instruction can be adopted within each subject area Alongside this is a useful summary of staff development and inset which offers practical ways in which teachers adoption of these effective strategies can be facilitated There are also useful sections on creating a whole school dictionary of essential vocabulary creating a culture of reading and writing and also those key literacy barriers experienced by those students with some of the most common special educational needs The Times Index ,2007 Indexes the Times and its supplements Simulations of Decision-Making as Active Learning Tools Peter Bursens,Vincent Donche,David Gijbels,Pieter Spooren,2018-03-05 This volume brings together both political and educational scientists While educational research literature has so far not systematically addressed the tool of simulations of decision making political scientists have hardly used insights from research on assessment or on motivation and interest of students Almost all political science publications on simulations merely discuss how to implement the tool in class and fall short of providing evidence of the effects on student outcomes such as increased interest and performance Combining the two disciplines is mutually enriching Political science benefits from state of the art educational science measuring and testing of the claims made by the proponents of simulations while educational sciences adds the systematic analysis of simulations of decision making to their list of empirical objects which also adds insights to the theories on the affective component of student learning It is the explicit aim of the volume to address how simulating decision making environments fosters learning Implications for research and practice regarding student learning are addressed in all chapters Public health policy and health communication challenges in the COVID-19 pandemic and infodemic Zhiwen Hu,Chuhan Wu,Pier Luigi Sacco,2023-08-31 Rethinking and Reviving Subject English Pete Bennett,Louise Lambert,Rob Smith,2022-09-27 This book invites readers to engage with the rich and complex debates of contemporary English education outlining new possibilities to revive the teaching of English Bringing together diverse voices and insights from educators in English across the primary secondary further and higher education phases the book offers reflections and critical engagement with the lived experiences of English teachers and pupils in contemporary educational spaces Each chapter includes example vignettes from classrooms which tell something of the story of English teaching today The book considers how politics and policy have worked to close the opportunities of the English classroom for self expression and critical engagement with the world a murder The authors then offer an exploration of the opportunities for a re imagining of English the murmurs of teachers and pupils that resist such closures The chapters explore new thinking new practices and new possibilities for English classrooms as inclusive emancipatory critical and creative spaces Offering a thoughtful and hopeful dialogue from practising English teacher researchers the book will be essential reading for researchers and students of English language and literature education as well as trainee teachers of English Well-Being Across the Globe ,2024-05-29 A global multidimensional concept well being is an important measure that is closely associated with quality of life This book examines well being concepts and measurements related health theories and correlates of well being as well as gender and geographical differences The authors explore the evidence on well being policies programs and health interventions in addition to issues of health advocacy self care and healthy aging They also examine global wellness perspectives in the context of planetary challenges and decolonization As the authors share their unique perspectives they bring to the fore the integration of cross cutting themes of gender human rights social and environmental justice equity and inclusivity health promotion settings and healthy public policy This book explores the diversity of philosophical and methodological perspectives on wellness and well being It further contextualizes the lived experience of the dimensions of well being as experienced by the contributors across different regions of the globe GCSE Geography Exam Board: AQA A Paddy Gannon,Sophie Watkins,Dennis Watts, AQA GCSE Geography A Simon R.
