The Geography of Mobility, Wellbeing and Development in China Wenjie Wu, Yiming Wang, 2020-02-25 Big data is increasingly regarded as a new approach for understanding urban informatics and complex systems Today there is unprecedented data availability with detailed remote sensed data on the built environment and rich mineable web based sources in the form of social media web mapping information services and other sources of unstructured big data This book brings together a group of international contributors to consider the geographical implications of mobility wellbeing and development within and across Chinese cities through location based big data perspectives The degree of urban sprawl productive density and vibrancy can be reflected from location based social media big data The challenge is to identify map and model these relationships to develop cities at different places in the urban hierarchical system that are more sustainable This edited book aims to tackle these issues through two inter related geographical scales inter city level and intra city level The text is designed for graduate courses in planning geography public policy and administration and for international researchers who are involved in urban and regional economics and economic geography

International Innovation Networks and Knowledge Migration Andreas Pyka, Yeşim Kuştepel, Dominik Hartmann, 2016-07-15 Migration is conceived differently in Europe compared with countries like the US Canada or Australia International Innovation Networks and Knowledge Migration confronts traditional views on migration with modern theories of brain circulation and innovation networks showing that migration leads to mutual benefits for both the home and host countries This new volume brings together several case studies and empirical in depth analyses which are constructed from the strong migration relationship between Turkey and Germany that has existed for more than 50 years Bringing together over 20 international contributors this book highlights that knowledge migration and cultural diversity can strongly stimulate entrepreneurial activities competence acquisition and economic development of countries and regions The authors highlight the considerable scope for improvement of European migration policies in order to be better prepared to successfully process structural changes stemming from an aging society in Europe and an increasing international division of labour This volume is suitable for those who study industrial economics international economics and European economics It is also of interest to those who want to delve deeper into the Turkish German migration nexus

Global Urbanism Michele Lancione, Colin McFarlane, 2021-06-21 Global Urbanism is an experimental examination of how urban scholars and activists make sense of and act upon the foundational relationship between the global and the urban What does it mean to say that we live in a global urban moment and what are its implications Refusing all encompassing answers the book grounds this question exploring the plurality of understandings definitions and ways of researching global urbanism through the lenses of varied contributors from different parts of the world The contributors explore what global urbanism means to them in their context from the ground and the struggles upon which they are working and living The book argues for an incremental fragile and in the making emancipatory urban thinking The contributions provide the resources to help make sense of what global urbanism is in its varieties what is at stake in it how to research it and what needs to change for more progressive urban futures It provides a heterodox set of approaches and theorisations to probe and provoke rather than aiming to draw a line under a complex changing and profoundly contested set of global urban processes Global Urbanism is primarily intended for scholars and graduate students in geography sociology planning anthropology and the field of urban studies for whom it will provide an invaluable and up to date guide to current thinking across the range of disciplines and practices which converge in the study of urbanism Chapter 36 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 license available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com/books/e/9780429259593>

Politics and the Urban Frontier Tom Goodfellow,2022-09-26 This is an open access title available under the terms of a CC BY NC ND 4 0 International licence It is free to read on the Oxford Academic platform and offered as a free PDF download from OUP and selected open access locations Despite the rise of global technocratic ideals of city making cities around the world are not merging into indistinguishable duplicates of one another In fact as the world urbanizes urban formations remain diverse in their socioeconomic and spatial characteristics with varying potential to foster economic development and social justice In this book Tom Goodfellow argues that these differences are primarily rooted in politics and if we continue to view cities as economic and technological projects to be managed rather than terrains of political bargaining and contestation the quest for better urban futures is doomed to fail Dominant critical approaches to urban development tend to explain difference with reference to the variegated impacts of neoliberal regulatory institutions This however neglects the multiple ways in which the wider politics of capital accumulation and distribution drive divergent forms of transformation in different urban places In order to unpack the politics that shapes differential urban development this book focuses on East Africa as the global urban frontier the least urbanized but fastest urbanizing region in the world Drawing on a decade of research spanning three case study countries Ethiopia Rwanda and Uganda Politics and the Urban Frontier provides the first sustained book length comparative analysis of urban development trajectories in Eastern Africa and the political dynamics that underpin them Through a focus on infrastructure investment urban propertyscapes street level trading economies and urban political protest it offers a multi scalar historically grounded and interdisciplinary analysis of the urban transformations unfolding in the world s most dynamic crucible of urban change

Everything in Its Place David B. Audretsch, 2015-03-02 Every city region and state wants to do better or at the very least not do worse Places have a strong and vigorous concern with and stake in generating a stronger economic performance This concern spans a broad spectrum of constituents and interests including business labor non profit organizations government and private residents However such decision makers mandated with the strategic management of their place receive little guidance or insight from scholars in terms of a systematic framework for evaluating how to generate and sustain a competitive advantage for their place While an entire academic field exists devoted to analyzing how firms and organizations can create and sustain a competitive advantage and ultimately a strong economic performance the field of strategic management in business schools no such analogous field exists which is devoted to guiding and informing decision makers mandated and concerned with the strategic management of their place Everything in Its Place seeks to fill this intellectual void explaining the underlying economic and social factors and the broad spectrum of policies and instruments that can actually influence and enhance economic performance in places Several academic fields have generated a number of important theories empirical findings and case studies that shed considerable light on identifying and unraveling the underlying forces about what shapes this economic performance Combined in this book with the actual experiences and instincts garnered from practitioners and policy makers these insights are integrated together in into a coherent inclusive framework to guide and inform thought leaders and scholars in the strategic management of places Perspecta 56

Guillermo Acosta Navarrete, Gabriel Gutierrez Huerta, 2024-07-23 Exploring architecture as a form of concealment and obfuscation in engendering new ways of understanding conceptualizing and reshaping the world Architecture is the perfect form of camouflage As buildings recede into the background of everyday life the myriad forces that shape our natural social and political landscapes hide in plain sight Embedded within the spatial and material organizations of the built environment are ideas of value hierarchy and control that tilt the ground and influence perception in the name of endless competing interests Operating across multiple scales and mediums architectural camouflage gives familiar form to obscure objectives Design transforms and encodes our shared environments from domestic domains to digital territories through its material practices aesthetics and discourses Immanent in the periphery architecture s images are internalized as forms for understanding and reshaping the world Camouflage in turn dwells in the architecture of our collective subconscious Latent within architecture s deceptions is a profound capacity to reflect the elusive intentions and surreal ambiguities of our ecological entanglements In masking hierarchies and shifting sensitivities to what escapes perception architecture can engender vital questions around the agency and significance of its world making practices Mediating with and within the background architecture can awaken new modes of attention to material and social layers previously unimagined or hidden and engage directly with the mirrored frameworks that define reality This issue of Perspecta considers the complexities and potentialities of architectural concealment obfuscation and mimicry of the power inherent in architecture s expanding capacity as media In the veiled extents of our physical and digital worlds what is still not found Contributors APRDELESP and Xavier Nueno Guitart Ashley Bigham and Erik Herrmann Esther M Choi feminist architecture collaborative Marianela D Aprile and Douglas Spencer Theo Deutinger and Christopher Clarkson DESIGN EARTH David Freeland and Brennan Buck Linda Gordon Noah Kalina Dana Karwas Andrew Economos Miller M C Overholt and Alex Whee Kim Trevor Paglen Lukas Pauer Nina Rappaport David Sadighian Matthew Soules Jerome Tryon Michael Young Desalination Jane Kucera, 2019-04-11 This all new revised edition of a modern classic is the most comprehensive and up to date coverage of the green process of desalination in industrial and municipal applications covering all of the processes and equipment necessary to design operate and troubleshoot desalination systems This is becoming increasingly more important for not only our world s industries but our world s populations as pure water becomes more and more scarce Blue is the new green This is an all new revised edition of a modern classic on one of the most important subjects in engineering Water Featuring a total revision of the initial volume this is the most comprehensive and up to date coverage of the process of desalination in industrial and
