Exclusion and Inclusion in International Migration: Power, Resistance and Identity Armağan Teke Lloyd, 2019-04-30 People on the move face new barriers in a globalizing world Some of these barriers are related with the rise of an increasingly security oriented approach towards international migrants Notwithstanding the forces of globalization states have maintained their monopoly power over whom to admit and whom to deny within their borders In other words they remain the sovereign authority regulating the entry and exit of people However in recent years a number of states have singled out international immigration as the greatest political and social threat to their cultural and national security The securitization of immigration is founded upon the premise that the international movement of people represents an exceptional risk for the survival of the nation and this is often associated with terrorism instability and criminality The securitization of immigration is also based on the idea that the traditional authority vested in states to regulate immigration is somehow insufficient and needs to be enhanced These assumptions correspond with a real policy shift in some countries such as the United States where the government is planning to spend approximately 23 Billion Dollars on border security and immigration enforcement in 2019 alone This edited volume is an exploration of the global landscapes

inhabited by refugees and labour migrants although the focus is largely on the former Despite the fact that most of the empirical studies are drawn from within Europe the book also includes research on Nepal Australia the Middle East and Japan in order to reveal the truly global dimensions of migration and the regimes governing this Content INTRODUCTION by Arma an Teke Lloyd PART A Ideology and Governance of Migration CHAPTER 1 Coming to Terms with Liberal Democracy by the Populist Radical Right Parties of Western Europe Evidence from European Parliament Speeches over Minorities and Migration by Caner Tekin CHAPTER 2 A Forest with many trees Mapping migration governance and the dispersion of authority in Europe by Lisa Marie Borrelli Rebecca Mavin and Giorgia Trasciani CHAPTER 3 Policing Migrants in Transit and Upon Arrival The Bordering Tactic of Integration in Austria and Germany by Olivia Johnson PART B Regulations Suspension of Human Rights CHAPTER 4 Borders Exception and Sovereignty Australia s Migration Policies as Instruments of Suspension of Human Rights and International Obligations by Ana Carolina Macedo Abreu CHAPTER 5 Power and Sandwiched Sovereignty Nepali Migrant Workers in the Gulf Countries by Hari KC CHAPTER 6 The Body and Embodied Experiences in the British Asylum System Developing a Conceptual Perspective by Rebecca Mavin CHAPTER 7 Eritrean Unaccompanied Refugee Minors in The Netherlands Wellbeing and Health by Anna de Haan Yodit Jacob Trudy Mooren and Winta Ghebreab PART C Migrants Strategies and Identities CHAPTER 8 Social Inclusion Processes for unaccompanied minors in the city of Palermo Fostering Autonomy through a New Social Inclusion Model by Roberta Lo Bianco and Georgia Chondrou CHAPTER 9 Urban Resistances and Migrant Activism Challenging the Border Regime in Madrid City by Ana Santamarina and Almudena Cabezas CHAPTER 10 RefConnect A Mobile Social Network for Refugees by Evdokia Kogia Styliani Liberopoulou Nikolaos Alamanos Vasilis Pierros and Christos Michalakelis CHAPTER 11 Halo Halo Nostalgia and Navigating Life for Overseas Filipino Workers OFW s in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia by Simeon S Magliveras

Post-Soviet Power Susanne A. Wengle, 2015-02-05 Post Soviet Power tells the story of the Russian electricity system and examines the politics of its transformation from a ministry to a market Susanne A Wengle shifts our focus away from what has been at the center of post Soviet political economy corruption and the lack of structural reforms to draw attention to political struggles to establish a state with the ability to govern the economy She highlights the importance of hands on economic planning by authorities post Soviet developmentalism and details the market mechanisms that have been created This book argues that these observations urge us to think of economies and political authority as mutually constitutive in Russia and beyond Whereas political science often thinks of market arrangements resulting from political institutions Russia s marketization demonstrates that political status is also produced by the market arrangements that actors create Taking this reflexivity seriously suggests a view of economies and markets as constructed and contingent entities

From Head Shops to Whole Foods Joshua C. Davis, 2017-08-08 In the 1960s and 70s a diverse range of storefronts including head shops African American bookstores feminist businesses and organic grocers brought the work of the New Left Black Power feminism environmentalism and other movements into the marketplace Through shared ownership limited growth and democratic workplaces these activist entrepreneurs offered alternatives to conventional profit driven corporate business models By the middle of the 1970s thousands of these enterprises operated across the United States but only a handful survive today Some such as Whole Foods Market have abandoned their quest for collective political change in favor of maximizing profits Vividly portraying the struggles successes and sacrifices of these unlikely entrepreneurs From Head Shops to Whole Foods writes a new history of social movements and capitalism by showing how activists embraced small businesses in a way few historians have considered The book challenges the widespread but mistaken idea that activism and political dissent are inherently antithetical to participation in the marketplace Joshua Clark Davis uncovers the historical roots of contemporary interest in ethical consumption social enterprise buying local and mission driven business while also showing how today s companies have adopted the language but not often the mission of liberation and social change

Economy, Forestry, and International Trade Gopalakrishnan, Badri Narayanan,Duggal, Taranjeet,Tewary, Tavishi,2021-01-22 Sustainable development has always been a contested concept and has been extensively debated over the last 30 years with new classifications arising since then There was a previous push for the radical transformations of the market economy to downscale production and consumption that would increase human well being and enhance ecological conditions Because of this conflict there was a need for a new model that challenges and could be the alternative for the liner economy this new model is called the circular economy A circular economy aimed at eliminating waste and the continual use of resources It gained its ground in the era of disruptive technological advancement and a dynamic global value chain By supporting resource efficient industrial models the circular economy preserves and improves natural capital optimizes the value of resources and abolishes negative environmental externalities such as pollution Examining the Intersection of Circular Economy Forestry and International Trade explores the link between the circular economy and various aspects of the business and environment to understand the usage and viability of adapting the circular economy from a business perspective The chapters highlight the transition to the circular economy its implementation across society its intersection with forestry and international trade and the solutions and challenges of the circular economy This book is aimed at researchers in the field of business management economics and environmental studies along with practitioners stakeholders researchers academicians and students looking for more information on the various fields impacting the circular economy as well as the implementation usage and viability of a widespread adoption of a circular economy

Modern Sufis and the State Katherine Pratt Ewing, Rosemary R. Corbett, 2020-08-25 Sufism is typically thought of as the mystical side of Islam In recent years it has been held up as a supposedly peaceful alternative to the spread of forms of Islam associated with violence an embodiment of democratic ideals of tolerance and pluralism Are Sufis in fact as otherworldly and apolitical as this stereotype suggests Modern Sufis and the State brings together a range of scholars including anthropologists historians and religious studies specialists to challenge common assumptions that are made about Sufism today Focusing on India and Pakistan within a broader global context this book provides locally grounded accounts of how Sufis in South Asia have engaged in politics from the colonial period to the present Contributors foreground the effects and unintended consequences of efforts to link Sufism with the spread of democracy and consider what roles scholars and governments have played in the making of twenty first century Sufism They critique the belief that Salafism and Sufism are antithetical offering nuanced analyses of the diversity multivalence and local embeddedness of Sufi political engagements and self representations in Pakistan and India Essays question the portrayal of Sufi shrines as sites of toleration peace and harmony exploring cases of tension and conflict A wide ranging interdisciplinary collection Modern Sufis and the State is a timely call to think critically about the role of public discourse in shaping perceptions of Sufism

The Political Economy of Special Economic Zones Lotta Moberg, 2017-03-16 This book examines SEZs from a political economy perspective both to dissect the incentives of governments zone developers and exporters and to uncover both the hidden costs and untapped potential of zone policies Costs include misallocated resources the encouragement of rent seeking and distraction of policy makers from more effective reforms However the zones also have several unappreciated benefits They can change the politics of a country by generating a transition from a system of rent seeking to one of liberalized open markets In revealing the hidden promise of SEZs this book shows how the SEZ model of development can succeed in the future

Placing the Border in Everyday Life Asst Prof Corey Johnson, Assoc Prof Reece Jones, 2014-05-28 Placing the Border in Everyday Life complicates the connection between borders and sovereign states by identifying the individuals and organizations that engage in border work at a range of scales and places This edited volume includes contributions from major international scholars in the field of border studies and allied disciplines who analyze where and why border work is done By combining a new theorization of border work beyond the state with rich empirical case studies this book makes a ground breaking contribution to the study of borders and the state in the era of globalization

The United States and the End of British Colonial Rule in Africa, 1941-1968

James P. Hubbard, 2014-01-10 At the end of World War II Britain possessed a vast African empire encompassing nearly 27 million square miles about 10 times larger than Britain itself But by 1965 only three small African territories remained under British control all of which would become independent before the end of 1968 This book examines the swift demise of Britain's African empire looking particularly at the role played by the United States in bringing the empire to an end It reveals how the United States was anti colonial without being actively pro independence concluding that the country's policies and actions combined with its postwar dominance directly and indirectly contributed to the political economic and social transformation of Africa

Integrating Food into Urban Planning Yves Cabannes, Cecilia Marocchino, 2018-11-22

The integration of food into urban planning is a crucial and emerging topic Urban planners alongside the local and regional authorities that have traditionally been less engaged in food related issues are now asked to take a central and active part in understanding how food is produced processed packaged transported marketed consumed disposed of and recycled in our cities While there is a growing body of literature on the topic the issue of planning cities in such a way they will increase food security and nutrition not only for the affluent sections of society but primarily for the poor is much less discussed and much less informed by practices This volume a collaboration between the Bartlett Development Planning Unit at UCL and the Food Agricultural Organisation aims to fill this gap by putting more than 20 city based experiences in perspective including studies from Toronto New York City Portland and Providence in North America Milan in Europe and Cape Town in Africa Belo Horizonte and Lima in South America and in Asia Bangkok and Tokyo By studying and comparing cities of different sizes from both the Global North and South in developed and developing regions the contributors collectively argue for the importance and circulation of global knowledge rooted in local food planning practices programmes and policies
