Oral history in South Africa Sekgothe Mokgoatsana, 2025-05-06 Colonial and apartheid era historical narratives in South Africa often disregard oral testimonies leaving significant gaps in understanding the country's rich and complex past This scholarly book explores the methodologies and ethics of oral history to address these omissions and to elevate oral testimonies as vital tools in historical scholarship This book brings together ten chapters authored by leading academics and researchers It critically examines how oral history methodologies can be contextualised within South Africa's diverse and multifaceted society Rather than focusing on Eurocentric approaches it emphasises the need to rethink the ethics and practices of oral history from an Afrocentric perspective Through its transdisciplinary and interdisciplinary lens spanning history indigenous knowledge studies museum and archival studies and folklore this book advocates for the recognition of interviewees as knowledge holders fostering meaningful exchanges rather than mere knowledge extraction The authors emphasise the need to protect and expand oral history archives ensuring the representation of marginalised voices and redressing past injustices With original research this volume sheds light on the transformative potential of oral history in South Africa offering new arguments and perspectives It aims to inspire scholars researchers and specialists to rethink conventional practices and to bridge the divide between written and oral histories This is essential literature for scholars and practitioners in history oral history theology museum studies and related fields as it reimagines the role of oral testimonies in producing inclusive and credible historical narratives

Twenty Years of Education Transformation in Gauteng 1994 to 2014 Maringe, Felix, Prew, Martin, 2015-05-05 Twenty Years of Education Transformation in Gauteng 1994 to 2014 An Independent Review presents a collection of 15 important essays on different aspects of education in Gauteng since the advent of democracy in 1994 These essays talk to what a provincial education department does and how and why it does these things whether it be about policy resourcing or implementing projects Each essay is written by one or more specialist in the relevant focus area The book is written to be accessible to the general reader as well as being informative and an essential resource for the specialist reader It sheds light on aspects of how a provincial department operates and why and with what consequences certain decisions have been made in education over the last 20 turbulent years both nationally and provincially There has been no attempt to fit the book's chapters into a particular ideological or educational paradigm and as a result the reader will find differing views on various aspects of the Gauteng Department of Education's present and past We leave the reader to decide to what extent the GDE has fulfilled its educational mandate over the last 20 years Between Time and Space Sulevi Riukulehto, 2015-05-13 In new regional history national states are not seen to play a special role Regions are understood as evolutionary processes in which time and space history and geography are connected in research questions To illustrate the entanglement of time and space in various forms and ages this volume explores regional history from around the globe The editor's review of the various works written under the heading of regional history serves as an introduction to this theme This volume shows how historical events and changes have influenced the reproduction of regions in Czechia it will also highlight how regional identities were manifested in a cultural form in romantic operas of post Napoleonic Europe The historically rich West Wits Line gold mining region in the West Rand of South Africa is also examined within a regional history framework with the broad theme of ecohealth and well being Through case studies the volume also explores the history of governance and planning in New Zealand's largest city region Auckland as well as the recent economic history of the State of Mato Grosso in Brazil Finally it also brings the idea of regional history to the most personal level of historical consciousness by examining the experiential shaping of home in the broader meaning of Heimat as a question of belonging somewhere both in time and in space Researching Peace, Conflict, and Power in the Field Yasemin Gülsüm Acar, Sigrun Marie Moss, Özden Melis Uluğ, 2020-08-29 This edited volume offers useful resources for researchers conducting fieldwork in various global conflict contexts bringing together a range of international voices to relay important methodological challenges and opportunities from their experiences The book provides an extensive account of how people do conflict research in difficult contexts critically evaluating what it means to do research in the field and what the role of the researcher is in that context Among the topics discussed Conceptualizing the interpreter in field interviews in post conflict settings Data collection with indigenous people Challenges to implementation of social psychological interventions Researching children and young people's identity and social attitudes Insider and outsider dynamics when doing research in difficult contexts Working with practitioners and local organizations Researching Peace Conflict and Power in the Field is a valuable guide for students and scholars interested in conflict research social psychologists and peace psychologists engaged in conflict related fieldwork Urban Inequality Owen Crankshaw, 2022-01-27 Based on new evidence that challenges existing theories of urban inequality Crankshaw argues that the changing pattern of earnings and occupational inequality in Johannesburg is better described by the professionalism of employment alongside high levels of chronic unemployment Central to this examination is that the social polarisation hypothesis which is accepted by many is simply wrong in the case of Johannesburg Ultimately Crankshaw posits that the post Fordist post apartheid period is characterised by a completely new division of labour that has caused new forms of racial inequality That racial inequality in the post apartheid period is not the result of the persistence of apartheid era causes but is the result of new causes that have interacted with the historical effects of apartheid to produce new patterns of racial inequality The Changing Space Economy of City-Regions Koech Cheruiyot, 2017-10-30 This book addresses the South African Space Economy and its stark disparities and dualisms through an assessment of the Gauteng City Region the largest economic agglomeration in the country and on a continent bedevilled by a myriad of development challenges The book s focus on understanding the overall character of Gauteng City Region s Space Economy through data mining analysis and mapping comprehensively supplements the Space Economy literature on the region It covers the disparities exacerbated by an overlay of apartheid planning ideology and top down regional development based on selective encouragement of manufacturing investments in growth points or poles and how implementation of past policies intended to cure these disparities have yielded mixed results This book further offers the Gauteng City Region as a microcosm of the national economy in the form of evident significant placed based variations in the intensity and character of economic structure that on the one hand enjoys massive agglomeration economies while on the other has high levels of poverty and large numbers of people living below the Minimum Living Level This book should appeal to urban studies specialists economists and development studies researchers in the Global South

Prisoners of the Past Steven Friedman, 2021-06-01 Building on the work of economic historian Douglass North and Ugandan political scholar Mahmood Mamdani Friedman argues that the difficulties besetting South African democracy are legacies of the past not products of the post 1994 era South Africa s democracy is often seen as a story of bright beginnings gone astray a pattern said to be common to Africa The negotiated settlement of 1994 it is claimed ended racial domination and created the foundation for a prosperous democracy but greedy politicians betrayed the promise of a new society In Prisoners of the Past Steven Friedman astutely argues that this misreads the nature of contemporary South Africa Building on the work of the economic historian Douglass North and the political thinker Mahmood Mamdani Friedman shows that South African democracy s difficulties are legacies of the pre 1994 past The settlement which ushered in majority rule left intact core features of the apartheid economy and society The economy continues to exclude millions from its benefits while racial hierarchies have proved stubborn apartheid is discredited but the values of the pre 1948 colonial era the period of British colonization still dominate Thus South Africa s democracy supports free elections civil liberties and the rule of law but also continues past patterns of exclusion and domination Friedman reasons that this path dependence is not as is often claimed the result of constitutional compromises in 1994 that left domination untouched This bargain was flawed because it brought not too much compromise but too little Compromises extended political citizenship to all but there were no similar bargains on economic and cultural change Using the work of the radical sociologist Harold Wolpe Friedman shows that only negotiations on a new economy and society can free South Africans from the prison of the past

Making Public in a Privatized World David A. McDonald, 2016-02-15 How do we provide effective public services in a deeply neoliberal world In the wake of the widespread failure of privatisation efforts societies in the global south are increasingly seeking progressive ways of recreating the public sector With contributors ranging from cutting edge scholars to activists working in health water and energy provision and with case studies covering a broad spectrum of localities and actors Making Public in a Privatized World uncovers the radically different ways in which public services are being reshaped from the grassroots up From communities holding the state accountable for public health in rural Guatemala to waste pickers in India and decentralized solar electricity initiatives in Africa the essays in this collection offer probing insights into the complex ways in which people are building genuine alternatives to privatization while also illustrating the challenges which communities face in creating public services which are not subordinated to the logic of the market or to the monolithic state entities of the past
