Frumkiss Family Business Michael Wex, 2010-08-24 Thomas Mann meets Mordecai Richler in this outstanding novel of great intellect and humour that already reads like a classic The Frumkiss family doesn't look much different from any of the others in Toronto's Bathurst Manor Grandpa survived the Holocaust Grandma the Second came from Poland at the age of five Dad's a foot doctor Mom is dead and her mother Grandma Number One died while giving birth to her in Kazakhstan Her three kids the oldest is forty two are as frustrated and directionless as most baby boomers with no real financial worries One's in Toronto there's one in the suburbs and the third lives in Israel As far as the Frumkisses know all that distinguishes them from anybody else is that Grandpa is a famous Yiddish writer who ended up working for the CBC But Grandpa's death sets off a chain of events that force the Frumkisses to see how different their family is from all the others The Frumkiss Family Business Michael Wex's brilliant and hilarious new novel is a family saga for the twenty first century a lovingly accurate portrait of middle class Canadian life at the turn of the century and of the Toronto neighbourhood that has produced such famous Canadians as Howie Mandel and Wex himself Imagine Thomas Mann's Buddenbrooks without the stodgy Germans or The Brothers Karamazov with only one brother Finally a novel that does for Toronto what Mordecai Richler's books did for Montreal The Publishers Weekly, 2009

pejorative use of the German schmuck derives from Schmock which is closer to the original Yiddish word and the transition of the word from meaning jewel to meaning penis is related to the description of a man's genitals as the family jewels The Online Etymology Dictionary indicates that the term derives from Eastern Yiddish shmok literally penis from Old Polish smok grass snake dragon but Rosten cites Dr Shlomo Noble of the YIVO Institute for Jewish Research as saying that shmok derives from shmuck and not the other way around Citizens Revealing Ethicless Apathetic Media PAC is a political organization formed for the purpose of addressing the social civic legal political and constitutional consequences of the media that provides for the citizens of the United States Our focus is to evaluate reporting that we feel is ethicless and apathetic Five general initiatives are utilized to accomplish this goal 1 Identification 2 Reporting 3 Education 4 Issue Advocacy and 5 Representation The organization educates citizens by informing them of media outlets and reporters whom we believe are unethical and apathetic inform them of current events that may affect their lives and advises them on what they can do to influence the outcome of these affairs C R E A M believes that education is the primary focus of its purpose because citizens cannot be motivated to take action without knowing what is important to them Issue advocacy is the advancement of concerns affecting the citizens of the United States C R E A M promotes topics that positively impact the citizens of the United States and condemns those that may be adverse to their values C R E A M understands that in order to make significant progress the citizens of the United States must identify and select political leaders that will represent its interests Without a voice citizens of the United States cannot be heard Contact us on how to help the cause and add your financial support Our lawyers require that we advise you that this book is almost blank and contains precisely 5294 words
