Hp Sr2004 Desktops Owners Manual:

A guide to forest-water management Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, International Union of Forest Research Organizations, U.S. Department of Agriculture, 2021-08-24 Many people worldwide lack adequate access to clean water to meet basic needs and many important economic activities such as energy production and agriculture also require water. Climate change is likely to aggravate water stress. As temperatures rise, ecosystems and the human plant and animal communities that depend on them will need more water to maintain their health and to thrive. Forests and trees are integral to the global water cycle and therefore vital for water security: they regulate water quantity, quality, and timing and provide protective functions against, for example, soil and coastal erosion, flooding, and avalanches. Forested watersheds provide 75 percent of our freshwater, delivering water to over half the world's population. The purpose of A Guide to Forest Water Management is to improve the global information base on the protective functions of forests for soil and water. It reviews emerging techniques and methodologies, provides guidance and recommendations on how to manage forests for their water ecosystem services, and offers insights into the business and economic cases for managing forests for water ecosystem services. Intact native forests and well-managed planted forests can be a relatively cheap approach to water management while generating multiple co-benefits. Water security is a significant global challenge, but this paper argues that water-centered forests can provide nature-based solutions to ensuring global water resilience.

Guide sur la gestion des forêts et de l'eau Organisation des Nations Unies pour l'alimentation et l'agriculture, Union internationale des instituts de recherches forestières, Département de l'agriculture des États-Unis, 2022-06-16 De nombreuses personnes dans le monde ont des difficultés à avoir accès et obtenir de l'eau propre pour répondre à leurs besoins de base. La disponibilité de l'eau est un facteur majeur limitant la capacité de l'humanité à répondre aux futurs besoins alimentaires et énergétiques mondiaux. D'Odorico et al. 2018. L'eau devrait devenir une ressource encore plus rare à l'avenir. La demande humaine en eau, en énergie et en nourriture devrait augmenter de 30 à 50% et dans un scénario de statu quo, le monde devra faire face à un déficit mondial en eau de 40% d'ici 2030. 2030 WRG 2009 WWAP 2015 Le stress hydrique est un problème pour la santé humaine et la croissance économique. Des plans complets et intégrés de gestion de l'eau et des terres sont nécessaires pour résoudre le problème de la qualité et de la disponibilité de l'eau. L'évaluation des écosystèmes pour le millénaire 2005 a estimé que jusqu'à 75 % de l'eau douce destinée aux besoins humains et environnementaux provient des écosystèmes forestiers et montagneux. Les forêts et les arbres jouent un rôle important dans la fourniture de divers avantages environnementaux, sociaux, économiques et culturels aux populations des communautés rurales et des zones urbaines. Les interactions entre les forêts et l'eau influencent, entre autres, la fourniture et la filtration de l'eau, la régulation des risques naturels liés à l'eau, la conservation des sols, l'approvisionnement de la péninsule continentale et centrale et le changement climatique. Objectifs : améliorer la base d'informations sur les services écosystémiques forestiers liés à l'eau au travers de leur suivi et fournir des orientations sur la manière de gérer
