Julie S Submission:

Julie's Submission Claire Thompson, 2009-01-06 Julie has never recovered from the sudden death of her beloved husband. Having cut herself off from everyone and everything, Julie lives a physically and emotionally isolated life on a small rural farm. But Julie's world is turned upside down when she posts an ad for a handy man in the local newspaper. When she hires the only applicant, an enigmatic younger man named Will, Julie begins to fall under the spell of this beguiling young stranger, the first man who might reawaken her heart. Julie finds herself tumbling into a world of sensual delights, responding physically as she never has before. But Julie has doubts about Will's motives about the secret world of sexual pleasure they share and about what her own submission to it means.

Regressive Fictions Robin Howells, 2017-12-02 In a cultural shift around the mid-point of the French eighteenth century, the mode of wit is increasingly displaced by bourgeois pathos. Social sophistication and sexual experience are rejected in favour of a retreat into ideal imagination. Instead of the novel of worldliness, we encounter fictions of better worlds: original, natural, familial, innocent and harmonious, protected against reality and time. The regressive shift is traced in this study in general terms and then through detailed analysis of three of the best-selling novels of the period. The turning point is represented by Mme de Graffigny's Lettres d'une Péruvienne (1747-1752) with its profound ambivalence towards knowledge. A new order is revealed and set out but still declared lacking in Rousseau's Julie ou la Nouvelle Héloïse (1761). The visionary return to the organic wholeness of nature is offered by Bernardin de St-Pierre's Paul et Virginie (1788).

Marriage as a National Fiction Dagmar Stöferle, 2023-02-15 There is a prehistory of the adultery novel which became a pan-European literary paradigm in the second half of the 19th century. In the wake of the French Revolution, secular marriage legislation emerges, producing a metaphorical surplus that is still effective today. Using legal history and canonical literary texts from Rousseau to Goethe and Manzoni to Hugo and Flaubert, this book traces how marriage around 1800 became a figure of reflection for the modern nation-state. In the process, original contributions to the philology of the individual texts emerge. At the same time, law and literature are made fruitful for a historical semantics of society and community. This book is a translation of an original German 1st edition. Ehes als

Nationalfiction by Dagmar St ferle published by J B Metzler imprint of Springer Verlag GmbH Germany part of Springer Nature in 2020 The translation was done with the help of artificial intelligence machine translation by the service DeepL com The author with the support of Chris Owain Carter has subsequently revised the text further in an endeavour to refine the work stylistically

Generation Multiplex Timothy Shary, 2009-01-27 When teenagers began hanging out at the mall in the early 1980s the movies followed Multiplex theaters offered teens a wide array of perspectives on the coming of age experience as well as an escape into the alternative worlds of science fiction and horror Youth films remained a popular and profitable genre through the 1990s offering teens a place to reflect on their evolving identities from adolescence to adulthood while simultaneously shaping and maintaining those identities Drawing examples from hundreds of popular and lesser known youth themed films Timothy Shary here offers a comprehensive examination of the representation of teenagers in American cinema in the 1980s and 1990s He focuses on five subgenres school delinquency horror science and romance sexuality to explore how they represent teens and their concerns how these representations change over time and how youth movies both mirror and shape societal expectations and fears about teen identities and roles He concludes that while some teen films continue to exploit various notions of youth sexuality and violence most teen films of the past generation have shown an increasing diversity of adolescent experiences and have been sympathetic to the particular challenges that teens face

Feminist Interpretations of Jean-Jacques Rousseau Lynda Lange, 2009-03-02 A progenitor of modern egalitarianism communitarianism and participatory democracy Jean Jacques Rousseau is a philosopher whose deep concern with the relationship between the domains of private domestic and public political life has made him especially interesting to feminist theorists but also has made him very controversial The essays in this volume representing a wide range of feminist interpretations of Rousseau explore the many tensions in his thought that arise from his unique combination of radical and traditional perspectives on gender relations and the state Among the topics addressed by the contributors are the connections between Rousseau s political vision of the egalitarian state and his view of the natural role of women in the family Rousseau s apparent fear of the actual danger and power of women important questions Rousseau raised about child care and gender relations in individualist societies that feminists should address the founding of republics the nature of consent the meaning of citizenship and the conflation of modern universal ideals of democratic citizenship with modern masculinity leading to the suggestion that the latter is as fragile a construction as the former Overall this volume makes an important contribution to a core question at the hinge of modernism and postmodernism how modern egalitarian notions of social contract premised on universality and objective reason can yet result in systematic exclusion of social groups including women Contributors are Leah Bradshaw Melissa A Butler Anne Harper Sarah Kofman Rebecca Kukla Lynda Lange Ingrid Makus Lori J Marso Mira Morgenstern Susan Moller Okin Alice Ormiston Penny Weiss Elie Wiestad Elizabeth Wingrove Monique Wittig and Linda Zerilli

Divergences Et Convergences ,2007 Pushkin's Tatiana Olga Peters Hasty,1999

ONE OF THE most discussed and elusive female characters in the Russian literary tradition Pushkin's Tatiana Larina is the progenetrix of an impressive list of heroines ranging from Tolstoy's Anna Karenina to Pasternak's Lara Guishar in Doctor Zhivago. In this provocative new book Olga Hasty offers the first study of Pushkin's novel in verse Eugene Onegin that focuses systematically on Tatiana. A major revisionist reading of one of the central texts of the Russian canon, Hasty's Tatianacentric approach to Eugene Onegin revitalizes our understanding of both Pushkin's heroine and the novel in which she appears. Hasty shows with elegance and psychological insight how Tatiana is able to realize her imaginative potential in a context full of real risk and constraint. Tatiana emerges as a new literary psychological and cultural model who enacts precisely those creative tensions and possibilities on which Pushkin himself drew. Pushkin's Tatiana recovers the erotic energy, self control and expressivity of Pushkin's most beloved heroine, freeing her from the clichéd image of self-sacrificial woman. Hasty concludes with an insightful exploration of Tatiana's subsequent role in the self-presentations of the Russian poets Karolina Pavlova and Marina Tsvetaeva.

Sensibility, Reading and Illustration Ann Lewis, 2017-12-02

Eighteenth century sensibility has always been controversial. In fact the term itself refers to complex forms of physical and emotional responsiveness and Lewis's study investigates the fictional exploration of various key problems of sentimental response that were at the heart of eighteenth century moral, epistemological and aesthetic debates. These are analysed in conjunction with some of the actual often emotional responses that the term, its fictions and images have provoked through time, including an indispensable survey of the varying construction of sensibility as an object of study and the polemics subtending its definition. The verbal evocation of the visual in the form of spectacles and signs was understood in the eighteenth century as having an especially powerful impact. Lewis provides a new reading of the theme of sensibility by analysing the textual images in three best-selling novels from the mid-century: Graffigny's Lettres d'une Péruvienne, Marivaux's La Vie de Marianne and Rousseau's Julie. The examination of a largely neglected corpus of illustrations, understood as readings of each text, provides striking new evidence of the complexity, thematic richness and duplicity of these spectacles, whose power to provoke different reactions is perhaps their most interesting characteristic.
